Moving Viewers Carl Plantinga, 2009-04-08 Everyone knows the thrill of being transported by a film but what is it that makes movie watching such a compelling emotional experience In Moving Viewers Carl Plantinga explores this question and the implications of its answer for aesthetics the psychology of spectatorship and the place of movies in culture Through an in depth discussion of mainstream Hollywood films Plantinga investigates what he terms the paradox of negative emotion and the function of mainstream narratives as ritualistic fantasies He describes the sensual nature of the movies and shows how film emotions are often elicited for rhetorical purposes He uses cognitive science and philosophical aesthetics to demonstrate why cinema may deliver a similar emotional charge for diverse audiences

Moving Viewers Carl R. Plantinga, 2009 Everyone knows the thrill of being transported by a film but what is it that makes movie watching such a compelling emotional experience In Moving Viewers Carl Plantinga deftly explores this fascinating question and the implications of its answer for aesthetics the psychology of spectatorship and the place of movies in culture Through an in depth discussion of mainstream Hollywood films Plantinga investigates what he terms the paradox of negative emotion and the function of mainstream narratives as ritualistic fantasies he describes the sensual nature of the movies their direct appeal to the human body through sight sound and the human propensity for mimicry and shows how film emotions are often elicited for rhetorical purposes He moves away from a psychoanalytic explanation and makes powerful use of cognitive science and philosophical aesthetics to demonstrate why cinema may deliver the same emotional charge in Senegal Thailand or Peru as it does in Steven Spielberg s America rear cover

Theatre and Mind Bruce McConachie, 2012-12-07 All performance depends upon our abilities to create perceive remember imagine and empathize This book provides an introduction to the evolutionary and cognitive foundations of theatrical performing and spectating and argues that this scientific perspective challenges some of the major assumptions about what takes place in the theatre

Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media Julia A. Empey, Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2023-08-24 Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media From Annihilation to High Life and Beyond places posthumanism and feminist theory into dialogue with contemporary science fiction film and media This essay collection is intimately invested in the debates around the posthuman and the critical posthumanities within a feminist critical theoretical framework In this posthumanist light science fiction as a genre allows for new imaginings of human technological relations while it can also be the site of a critique of human exceptionalism and essentialism In this way science fiction affords unique opportunities for the scholarly investigation of the relevance and relative applicability of specific posthumanist themes and questions in a particularly rich and wide ranging popular cultural field of production One of the reasons for this suitability is the genre's historically longstanding relationship with the critical investigation of gender specifically the position and relative empowerment of women The original analyses presented here pay close attention to audiovisual style including game mechanics facilitating the critical interrogation of the issues and questions around posthumanism Where typically the mention of SF in the posthumanist context calls to mind a whole set of often clichéd tropes the cyborg technologically augmented bodies AI subjectivities etc this volume's thirteen chapters analyze specific examples of contemporary SF cinema that engage in meaningful ways with the burgeoning field of critical posthumanism and that utilize such films to interrogate posthumanist and feminist as well as humanistic ideas

The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues film's kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject

Screen Stories Carl Plantinga, 2018-04-06 As stories on screens claim a more pervasive and influential presence in contemporary culture Screen Stories argues for a restructuring of film and media studies approach to ethics

Thinking in Tongues James K. A. Smith, 2010-06-15 The past several decades have seen a renaissance in Christian philosophy led by the work of Alvin Plantinga Nicholas Wolterstorff William Alston Eleonore Stump and others In the spirit of Plantinga's famous manifesto Advice to Christian Philosophers James K A Smith here offers not only advice to Pentecostal philosophers but also some Pentecostal advice to Christian philosophers In this inaugural Pentecostal Manifestos volume Smith begins from the conviction that implicit in Pentecostal and charismatic spirituality is a tacit worldview or social imaginary Thinking in Tongues unpacks and articulates the key elements of this Pentecostal worldview and then explores their implications for philosophical reflection on ontology epistemology aesthetics language science and philosophy of religion In each case Smith demonstrates how the implicit wisdom of Pentecostal spirituality makes unique contributions to current conversations in Christian philosophy

The Orientation of Future Cinema Bruce Isaacs, 2013-02-14 What is the fate of cinema in an age of new technologies new aesthetic styles new modes of cultural production and consumption What becomes of cinema and a century long history of the moving image when the theatre is outmoded as a social and aesthetic space as celluloid gives over to digital technology as the art house and multiplex are overtaken by a proliferation of home entertainment systems The Orientation of Future Cinema offers an ambitious and compelling argument for the continued life of cinema as image narrative and experience Commencing with Lumière's Arrival of a Train at a Station Bruce Isaacs confronts the threat of contemporary digital technologies and processes by returning to cinema's complex history as a technological and industrial phenomenon The technology of moving images has profoundly changed and yet cinema materialises ever more forcefully in digital capture and augmentation 3D perception and affect High Frame Rate cinema and the evolution of spectacle as the dominant aesthetic mode in contemporary studio production Film and the Emotions, 2010 Philosophy in The

The Musical as Event. Modes of Address in Contemporary Film Musicals Amelie Meyer, 2020-04-07 Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject American Studies Miscellaneous grade 1.0 University of Göttingen Philosophische Fakultät language English abstract At the beginning of the year 2010 movie critic Bob Mondello triumphantly declared It's going to be another musical decade noting the way the previous ten years have prompted a movie musical resurgence paving the road for a bright music filled future When looking at the history of musicals over the course of time this does not always seem to be the case In spite of the fact that the film musical was an audience favorite during its Golden Age era 1927 until the mid 1950s and celebrating great successes such as 42nd Street 1933 or Singin' in the Rain 1952 it seems to have deteriorated in quality and reputation Since recent movie musicals apparently have hit a different more successful nerve with audiences the question is why the genre now sees an uplift in box office numbers Which elements of recent movie musicals keep audiences glued to the screen How do they work in tapping into audiences emotions prompting them to participate This thesis will be influenced by the methodology of reception study scholar Janet Staiger Staiger's 1992 Interpreting Film Studies in the Historical Reception of American Cinema and Perverse Spectators 2000 reconsider the way audiences make sense of films With her historical materialist approach taking into account all traces of audiences interacting with filmic material she sets out to find an understanding of why certain films prove to be successful with audiences at certain times Kemper She investigates the modes of address and exhibition establishes the identities and interpretative strategies and tactics brought by spectators to the cinema and acknowledges cultural groups such as fans who produce their own conventionalized modes of reception 2.3 emphasis in original It is the purpose of this thesis then to take up the approach of looking at the contact zone Kemper between films and audiences in order to investigate filmic addresses fostering audience engagement In doing so an assortment of recent film musicals that have achieved considerable box office success including Moulin Rouge Across the Universe Hairspray and Mamma Mia will be analyzed with regard to particular addresses picked up by audiences thereby creating the event of movie going The central question investigated here then asks Which elements of a particular film are focused on by critical reports and how do these elements shape the movie going experience participation and engagement of viewers
