Mpumalanga September 2014 Question Paper:

Conservation Agriculture for Africa Amir H Kassam, Saidi Mkomwa, Theodor Friedrich, 2016-12-14 Tillage agriculture has led to widespread soil and ecosystem degradation globally This is especially so in Africa where traditional and modern tillage based agricultural practices have become unsustainable due to severe disturbance and exploitation of natural resources with negative impacts on the environment and rural livelihoods In addition agriculture in Africa today faces major challenges including increased costs of production and energy the effects of climate change and the lack of an effective paradigm for sustainable intensification especially for small and medium size holdings Africa is facing a serious challenge to food security and as a continent has not advanced towards eradicating hunger In addition the population is still growing much faster than on most other continents This pressure has led to the emergence of no till conservation agriculture as a serious alternative sustainable agriculture paradigm In Africa in recent years conservation agriculture techniques and methods have spread to many countries as greater development education and research effort are directed towards its extension and uptake This book is aimed at agricultural researchers and scientists educationalists and agricultural service providers institutional leaders and policy makers working in the fields of sustainable agriculture and international development and also at agroecologists conservation scientists and those working on ecosystem services Archives,

Objects, Places and Landscapes Munyaradzi Manyanga, Shadreck Chirikure, 2017-04-11 Dissatisfaction has matured in Africa and elsewhere around the fact that often the dominant frameworks for interpreting the continents past are not rooted on the continents value system and philosophy This creates knowledge that does not make sense especially to local communities The big question therefore is can Africans develop theories that can contribute towards the interpretation of the African past using their own experiences Framed within a concept revision substrate the collection of papers in this thought provoking volume argues for concept revision as a step towards decolonizing knowledge in the post colony The various papers powerfully expose that cleansed knowledge is not only locally relevant it is also locally accessible and globally understandable Political Ecologies of Meat Jody Emel, Harvey Neo, 2015-05-15 Livestock production worldwide is increasing rapidly in part due to economic growth and demand for meat in industrializing countries Yet there are many concerns about the sustainability of increased meat production and consumption from perspectives including human health animal welfare climate change and environmental pollution This book tackles the key issues of contemporary meat production and consumption through a lens of political ecology which emphasizes the power relations producing particular social economic and cultural interactions with non human nature Three main topics are addressed the political ecology of global livestock production trends changes in production systems around the world and their implications for environmental justice and existing and emerging governance strategies for meat production and consumption systems and their implications Case studies of different systems at varying scales are included drawn from Asia Africa the Americas and Europe The book includes an editorial introduction to set the context and synthesize key messages for the reader Research Companion to Construction Economics Ofori, George, 2022-03-15 This innovative Research Companion considers the history nature and status of construction economics and its need for development as a field in order to be recognised as a distinct discipline It presents a state of the art review of construction economics identifying areas for further research

Oral history in South Africa Sekgothe Mokgoatšana, 2025-05-06 Colonial and apartheid era historical narratives in South Africa often disregard oral testimonies leaving significant gaps in understanding the country's rich and complex past This scholarly book explores the methodologies and ethics of oral history to address these omissions and to elevate oral testimonies as vital tools in historical scholarship This book brings together ten chapters authored by leading academics and researchers It critically examines how oral history methodologies can be contextualised within South Africa's diverse and multifaceted society Rather than focusing on Eurocentric approaches it emphasises the need to rethink the ethics and practices of oral history from an Afrocentric perspective Through its transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary lens spanning history indigenous knowledge studies museum and archival studies and folklore this book advocates for the recognition of interviewees as knowledge holders fostering meaningful exchanges rather than mere knowledge extraction The authors emphasise the need to protect and expand oral history archives ensuring the representation of marginalised voices and redressing past injustices With original research this volume sheds light on the transformative potential of oral history in South Africa offering new arguments and perspectives It aims to inspire scholars researchers and specialists to rethink conventional practices and to bridge the divide between written and oral histories This is essential literature for scholars and practitioners in history oral history theology museum studies and related fields as it reimagines the role of oral testimonies in producing inclusive and credible historical narratives

Annual Report Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education, 2015

The Continuing Imperialism of Free Trade Jo Grady, Chris Groot, 2018-10-08 In 1953 John Gallagher and Ronald Robinson shook the foundations of imperial history with their essay The Imperialism of Free Trade They reshaped how historians saw the British empire focussing not on the red bits on the map and the wishes of policy makers in London but rather on British economic and political influence globally Expanding on this analysis this volume provides an examination of imperialism which brings the reader right up to the present This book offers an innovative assessment and analysis of the history and contemporary status of imperial control It does so in four parts examining the historical emergence and traditions of imperialism the relationships between the periphery and the metropolitan the role of supranational agencies in the extension of imperial control and how these connect to financialisation and international political economy The book provides a dynamic and unique perspective on imperialism by bringing together a range of contributors both established and up and coming scholars activists and those from industry from a wide range of disciplines and backgrounds In providing these authors a space to apply their insights this engaging volume sheds light on the practical implications of imperialism for the contemporary world With a broad chronological and geographical sweep this book provides theoretical and empirical engagements with the nature of imperialism and its effects upon societies It will be of great interest to a broad range of disciplines across the humanities and social sciences especially those working in History Politics and Management and Organisation Studies Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb,2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization

Perspectives on the State Borders in Globalized Africa Yuichi Sasaoka,Aimé Raoul Sumo Tayo,Sayoko Uesu,2022-02-25 Assessing the different kinds of borders between African nations the contributors present a borderland and trans region approach to understanding the challenges and opportunities facing the peoples of the African continent Africa faces rampant violence terrorism deterioration of water energy food provision influxes of refugees and immigrants and religious hatred under the trends of globalization Solutions for these issues require new perspectives that are not attempted by conventional state building approaches Statehood is limited in many places on the African continent because many states are combined by loose political ties African states borders tend to be regarded as porous and fragile However as the contributors to this volume argue those porous borders can contribute to cultural and socio economic network construction beyond states and the creation of active borderlands by increasing people s mobility contact and trade A must read for scholars of African studies that will also be of great value to academics and students with a broader interest in nationhood globalization and borders Summary of Events in Lesotho ,2015 Southern Africa Report ,2008 Financial Mail ,2006 World Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Abstracts ,2000
