Andrade, Lúcio Tomé Fêteira

Key Provisions Of The Act No 28 April 2009:

Rule of Law for Nature Christina Voigt, 2013-11-21 Human laws must be reformulated to keep human activities in harmony with the unchanging and universal laws of nature This 1987 statement by the World Commission on Environment and Development has never been more relevant and urgent than it is today Despite the many legal responses to various environmental problems more greenhouse gases than ever before are being released into the atmosphere biological diversity is rapidly declining and fish stocks in the oceans are dwindling This book challenges the doctrinal construction of environmental law and presents an innovative legal approach to ecological sustainability a rule of law for nature which guides and transcends ordinary written laws and extends fundamental principles of respect integrity and legal security to the non human world

Main results and metadata by country (2006-2015) Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-11-15 At the end of each round the FAO Statistics Division reviews and assesses national census practices methodologies and results and summarizes the findings in methodological publications under the Statistical Development Series SDS The SDS 17 i e this first publication is a compendium of reviews of country agricultural censuses conducted during the WCA 2010 round which covers the period 2006 2015 and their main results This publication includes detailed metadata on agricultural censuses conducted by different countries Apart from providing information on historical background legal institutional frameworks and international collaboration the publication also provides an overview of the census staff reference and enumeration periods scope and coverage methodological modalities frame data collection methods questionnaires used new technology used data processing and archiving and census data quality and dissemination The metadata reviews are complemented by tables with main results on key structural characteristics such as number of holdings total area of holdings area irrigated machinery gender and sex of holders number of household members farm labor livestock and crop areas This review of the WCA 2010 round is intended to serve as useful reference material for census planners and data users providing valuable lessons for future censuses which will ultimately lead to improved assessments of countries agricultural sectors

New Technologies and Human Rights Norberto Nuno Gomes de Andrade, Lúcio Tomé Féteira, 2016-05-13 Whilst advances in biotechnology and information technology have undoubtedly resulted in better quality of life for mankind they can also bring about global problems The legal response to the challenges caused by the rapid progress of technological change has been slow and the question of how international human rights should be protected and promoted with respect to science and technology remains unexplored The contributors to this book explore the political discourse and power relations of technological growth and human rights issues between the Global South and the Global North and uncover the different perspectives of both regions They investigate the conflict between technology and human rights and the perpetuation of inequality and subjection of the South to the North With emerging economies such as Brazil playing a major role in trade investment and financial law the book examines how human rights are affected in Southern countries and identifies significant challenges to reform in the areas of international law and policy Creeping Failure Jeffrey Hunker, 2010-08-24 The Internet is often called a superhighway but it may be more analogous to a city an immense tangle of streets highways and interchanges lined with homes and businesses playgrounds and theatres We may not physically live in this city but most of us spend a lot of time there and even pay rents and fees to hold property in it But the Internet is not a city of the 21st century Jeffrey Hunker an internationally known expert in cyber security and counter terrorism policy argues that the Internet of today is in many ways equivalent to the burgeoning cities of the early Industrial Revolution teeming with energy but also with new and previously unimagined dangers and lacking the technical and political infrastructures to deal with these problems In a world where change of our own making has led to unexpected consequences why have we failed at our own peril to address these consequences Drawing on his experience as a top expert in information security Hunker sets out to answer this critical question in Creeping Failure Hunker takes a close look at the creeping failures that have kept us in a state of cyber insecurity how and why they happened and most crucially how they can be fixed And he arrives at some stunning conclusions about the dramatic measures that we will need to accomplish this This groundbreaking book is an essential first step toward understanding the World Wide Web in a larger context as we try to build a safer Internet city But it also raises issues that are relevant far outside the online realm for example how can we work together to create not just new policy but new kinds of policy Creeping Failure calls for nothing less than a basic rethinking of the Internet and of how we solve problems together Allegation of UK complicity in torture Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on Human Rights, 2009-08-04 There have been a number of reports that UK security services have been complicit in the torture of UK nationals held in Pakistan and elsewhere Complicity in torture is a direct breach of the UK's international human rights obligations In the Committee's view complicity in torture exists where a state asks a foreign intelligence service known to use torture to detain and question an individual provides information to a foreign intelligence service known to use torture gives questions to a foreign intelligence service to put to a detainee who has been or is likely to be tortured sends interrogators to question a detainee who is known to have been tortured has intelligence personnel present at an interview with a detainee in a place where he is being or might have been tortured systematically receives information known or thought likely to have been obtained from detainees subjected to torture The Government appears to have been determined to avoid parliamentary scrutiny on this issue The Government must take measures to improve the system of accountability for the intelligence and security services It should aim to make the Intelligence and Security Committee a proper parliamentary select committee with independent advice and reporting to Parliament not the Prime Minister It should publish all versions of guidance given to intelligence and security service personnel about detaining and interviewing individuals overseas and make public all relevant legal opinions provided to ministers There should be an independent inquiry into the allegations Recent Developments in the South China Sea Dispute Wu Shicun, Nong

Hong,2014-05-30 The South China Sea region contains potentially huge deposits of petroleum and natural gas important shipping lanes and fishing areas and is subject to a number of maritime territorial disputes This edited volume analyzes the most recent development in the South China Sea dispute looking at the positions taken by China the ASEAN countries and the US In recent years maritime joint development zones have emerged as an important means to overcome deadlock in relation to maritime jurisdictional claims This book tests the applicability of joint development regime in this region and explores the prospect of joint development of resources as a way to successfully manage the conflict in the South China Sea Eminent scholars in the field of South China Sea studies have contributed original chapters to the volume covering such issues as the legal framework for joint development how joint development might work in practice the challenges faced by and the prospects arising from joint development and the way forward for the region Official Gazette Philippines,2009

Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1925 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the session of the Parliament The European Court of Human Rights in Facts and Figures ,2010 The importance of the European Court of Human Rights in the European judicial area and its influence beyond Europe s borders are indisputable For over fifty years the Court s rulings have resulted in numerous changes to legislation and have helped strengthen the rule of law in the countries of wider Europe This publication presents the Court s activities through country factsheets but also using a thematic approach based on the articles of the European Convention on Human Rights

Information Rights Philip Coppel,2014-12-01 This is the fourth edition of what is the leading practitioner s text on freedom of information law Providing in depth legal analysis and practical guidance it offers complete authoritative coverage for anyone either making handling or adjudicating upon requests for official information The three years since the previous edition have seen numerous important decisions from the courts and tribunals in the area These and earlier authorities supply the basis for clear statements of principle which the work supports by reference to all relevant cases The book is logically organised so that the practitioner can quickly locate the relevant text It commences with an historical analysis that sets out the object of the legislation and its relationship with other aspects of public law Full references to Hansard and other Parliamentary materials are provided This is followed by a summary of the regime in five other jurisdictions providing comparative jurisprudence which can assist in resolving undecided points The potential of the Human Rights Act 1998 to support rights of access is dealt with in some detail with reference to all ECHR cases Next follows a series of chapters dealing with rights of access under other legislative regimes covering information held by EU bodies requests under the Data Protection Act and the Environmental Information Regulations public records as well as type specific rights of access These introduce the practitioner to useful rights of access that might otherwise be overlooked They are arranged thematically to ensure ready identification of potentially relevant ones The book then considers practical aspects of information requests the persons who may make them the bodies to whom they may be made the time allowed for responding the modes of response fees and vexatious requests the duty to advise and assist the codes of practice government guidance and its status transferring of requests third party consultation The next 13 chapters comprising over half the book are devoted to exemptions These start with two important chapters dealing with general exemption principles including the notions of prejudice and the public interest The arrangement of these chapters reflects the arrangement of the FOI Act but the text is careful to include analogous references to the Environmental Information Regulations and the Data Protection Act 1998 With each chapter the exemption is carefully analysed starting with its Parliamentary history giving full references to Hansard and other Parliamentary material and the treatment given in the comparative jurisdictions The analysis then turns to consider all court judgments and tribunal decisions dealing with the exemption The principles are stated in the text with footnotes giving all available references Whether to prepare a case or to prepare a response to a request these chapters allow the practitioner to get on top of the exemption rapidly and authoritatively The book concludes with three chapters setting out the role of the Information Commissioner and the Tribunal appeals and enforcement The chapter on appeals allows the practitioner to be familiar with the processes followed in the tribunal picking up on the jurisprudence as it has emerged in the last eight or so years Appendices include precedent requests for information a step by step guide to responding to a request comparative tables and a table of the FOI Act s Parliamentary history Finally the book includes an annotated copy of the FOIA Act the Data Protection Act 1998 the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 all subordinate legislation made under them EU legislation Tribunal rules and practice directions and the Codes of Practice Contributors Prof John Angel former President of the Information Tribunal Richard Clayton QC 4 5 Gray s Inn Square Joanne Clement 11 KBW Gerry Facena Monkton Chambers Eleanor Gray QC Annual Report Denmark.
