Linde Hydraulic Control (LHC)

Digital electro-hydraulic controller

Instead of a control lever, an electrical motor can operate the drive control technology, instead of a hydraulic accumulator, a computer electronic controller instead with a very powerful microcontroller performs all control functions for the drive unit and the working hydraulics (2).

Adaptation to various trucks

The electronic control unit is capable of controlling trucks from a variety of series and with different drive concepts. To use different truck parameters and sensors, each truck model has to be configured and properly identified for the truck.

Troubleshooting

The processor of the electronic control unit analyses analogue and digital signals. The processor interprets digital messages and system errors, and displays an error message on the display/monitor on the seat interface. In addition, the control unit activates a variety of functions according to the error's highest priority.

- Working light flashes
- Reversible activation of the manual counterbalance system
- The truck brakes with automatic brake release and off the target mode
- The truck brakes in the emergency function, the manual counterbalance system activates off
- An error code appears on display

These functions can be activated by switching off the counterbalance system with the key switch. During a fault, the control unit shows whether the error is still present. If the error is no longer present, the truck returns normal operation. If the error persists, the error code appears on the display and one of the measures listed above is performed.

Changing the controller

4.1 Interface

Problems regarding component damage due to electrostatic discharge (ESD) damage to sensitive elements will occur if the controller is moved.

The controller is equipped with a "Threat plug" which is attached to the back to avoid static damage. Connections must never be left open. The system unit monitor and the software version of the controller can be read out via the back connector.

4.2 Notes

If the controller is replaced, the permitted work unit controller must be identified and plug adapted to the cable harness. All necessary information is available on the cable harness.
