Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011 scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets These results suggested a worrisome possibility the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic In response a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose These discussions addressed the complex social technical political security and ethical issues related to dual use research This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives

Large-Scale and Full-Scale Methods for Examining Wind Effects on Buildings Gregory A. Kopp, 2018-06-12 Global economic losses due to severe weather events have grown dramatically over the past two decades A large proportion of these losses are due to severe wind storms such as tropical cyclones and tornadoes which can cause destruction to buildings houses and other infrastructure over large areas To address the growing losses many new large scale and full scale laboratories have been developed These tools are used to examine the issues that could not be solved with the traditional tools of wind engineering including model scale boundary layer wind tunnels simplified standardized product tests and other methods of analysis This book presents state of the art results from the development of the many novel approaches being used to mitigate natural disasters around the world

How to Make Better Decisions. Examples from Exploration Bernhard Seubert, 2021-11-26 Scientific Essay from the year 2014 in the subject Psychology Industrial and organizational psychology grade A language English abstract Good decision making creates value for a company The decision to drill in the right place or not has strong economic repercussions Moreover the human approach to decision making can be flawed Many of the common flaws in decision making are related to heuristic factors that is by human ways of thinking and drawing conclusions These factors can negatively impact the outcomes of an exploration program This paper gives examples of cases in which geoscientific reasoning can lead to pitfalls and explores why this is so The paper then discusses the merits of the multiple working hypotheses MWH concept as an aid to harnessing seemingly contradictory data relating to several often mutually exclusive interpretations or scenarios A simple method using a spreadsheet and decision tree analysis is proposed to quantify the outcomes of multiple scenarios The method is illustrated by a subsurface example in which two possible interpretations reef versus volcano are considered An outlook of Bayesian statistics and other methods is included
