Women's Under-Representation in the Engineering and Computing Professions: Fresh Perspectives on a Complex Problem Kathleen Buse, Catherine Hill, Romila Singh, 2018-06-21 Understanding the many complexities that define gender inequality has been described by researchers as a grand challenge. Novel insights, innovation, a broader community to conduct research and to ascertain effective interventions are essential in the challenge to create organizations that are gender equal. As such, this Research Topic in Frontiers in Psychology addresses the underrepresentation of women in engineering and computing as a complex but solvable problem. This Research Topic seeks to inform the global community about advances in understanding the underrepresentation of women in engineering and computing with a focus on what enables change. Further, this Topic will promote fresh perspectives, innovative methodologies, and mixed method approaches important to accelerating the pace of change. McGraw-Hill's SAT, 2014 Edition Christopher Black, Mark Anestis, 2013-06-28 WE WANT TO HELP YOU SUCCEED ON THE SAT We've put all of our proven expertise into McGraw Hill's SAT to make sure you're ready for this difficult exam. Berghout Austin, 2016-10-17 This volume presents current research on the connections between the home and family environment on children's mathematics development. Focusing on infancy through first grade, it details the role of parents and other caregivers in promoting numeracy and the ways their active participation can prepare young children for learning about formal mathematics. Research data answer key questions regarding the development of numeracy alongside cognitive and linguistic skills, early acquisition of specific math skills, and numeracy of children with atypical language skills. The book also provides practical recommendations for parents and other caregivers, as well as implications for future research studies and curriculum design. Included in the coverage: Ways to optimize home numeracy environments; Individual differences in numerical abilities; Cross cultural comparisons and ways to scaffold young children's mathematical skills; Mathematics and language in the home environment; Center based and family based child care; Games and home numeracy practice. Early Childhood Mathematics Skill Development in the Home Environment is an essential resource for researchers, graduate students, and professionals in infancy and early childhood development, child and school psychology, early childhood education, social work, mathematics.

education and educational psychology Social Studies Education in South and South East Asian Contexts Kerry J Kennedy,2021-07-22 The education of young people is context bound This edited volume explores the contexts that characterise South and South East Asia and their influence on social studies education There is not a single context across this broad geographical expanse rather different religions different political systems and different values exert influences that create distinctive programmes that characterise different countries Yet there are also commonalities such as the post colonial nature of most of the countries portrayed in this book determined efforts at establishing new national communities and multiple value systems that lead to distinctive local priorities There are also voices of resistance in these chapters recognising the realities of local contexts but also recognising the need for change Social studies education in these contexts may well be descended from its origins in North America but in South and South Asian contexts it has taken on new purposes new forms and new values Education researchers policymakers and postgraduate students in comparative education will find the volume useful in its exploration and comparison of the social studies curricular and reforms that shaped them
