Mossi Christopher Roy:

Mossi Christopher D. Roy, 2019-01-01 The Mossi people of Burkina Faso have a rich and complex history that is mirrored by the several types and styles of figures and masks they create They came into being around 1500 A D when a large group of horsemen from what is now northern Ghana rode north into the valley of the Volta River and conquered the local farmers The descendants of the conquering horsemen became the ruling class and used political art in the form of royal figures to validate their authority Meanwhile the descendants of the conquered farmers became the spiritual class and made masks to represent the spirits of nature The stylistic diversity of this art mirrors the several geographically divergent peoples who were conquered in 1500 and eventually became the Mossi we know today Unlike several other West African peoples the Mossi have not converted to Islam in large numbers and so they continue creating brilliant art much as their ancestors did hundreds of years ago Until the 1980s there was much confusion about the accurate attribution of Mossi art to the people who created it This book makes clear that the Mossi have continued to create brilliant art which they use to this day to express ideas about politics and religion

The World of Spirits and Ancestors in the Art of Western Sub-Saharan Africa Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser, 1995 The World of Spirits and Ancestors in the Art of Western Sub Saharan Africa illustrates for the first time a collection of African Sculpture at the Museum of Texas Tech University in Lubbock Texas The masks and figurative carvings from the late nineteenth century to the mid twentieth century are from two sources Ambassador and Mrs Julius Walker s gift to ICASALS International Center for Arid and Semiarid Land Studies now on permanent loan to the Museum and the Elliot Howard Collection Howard an artist and authority on antiques chose examples of sculpture for their variety and aesthetic appeal His hope was that the pieces he assembled would provide new discoveries for those unacquainted with the art of Africa and an art experience that would enhance mutual respect among people fittingly then a context for understanding is the focus of Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser's book As the title suggests The World of Spirits and Ancestors introduces carefully chosen examples of masks and figures as social and spiritual communications imbued with the living history and culture of the various peoples of western sub-Saharan Africa. Sasser emphasizes that geography and climate ranging from semiarid deserts to tropical rain forests influence not only the art but also the habitations and ceremonial life of the region. More than 180 drawings and illustrations reflect the creative genius that continues to meet environmental challenges and to express the distinctive contributions of the cultures and the people of western sub-Saharan Africa.

African Arts, 2009 Woman Eternal, 1991 For Spirits and Kings Susan Mullin Vogel, 1981 Isn't S/he a Doll? Elisabeth Lynn Cameron, Doran H. Ross, 1996

From Preface This publication challenges the prevailing opinion among scholars of African art that the word doll is an inappropriate designation for many genres of African art to which it is often applied. The word it seems evokes a limited set of images that are incompatible with the stereotype of African sculpture as objects laden with ritual and religious associations, associations which to many minds preclude any consideration of play as part of their existence. Our basic premise for this volume is that the problem is not the application of doll to African contexts but rather a profound misunderstanding of what a doll is. Playing with dolls we argue is serious business and we in the United States and elsewhere in the Western world probably take ours too lightly. While the average parent views these figures as relatively inconsequential objects, it is becoming increasingly clear to social scientists that they can be active in establishing value systems and constructing identities.

Into the 80's Canadian Association of African Studies. Conference, 1981 Masterworks from the Indiana University Art Museum Indiana University, Bloomington. Art Museum, 2007

Richly illustrated with more than 160 full color plates Masterworks from the Indiana University Art Museum presents a selection of the finest works from one of the best university art museums in the world. Included are examples from the full range of world cultures collected by the museum: Africa, the Ancient Western World, Asia, Ancient America, the South Pacific, and Western Art before and after 1800. The entry accompanying each piece by the curator of that collection sketches the cultural context within which the object was created and used and describes the unique qualities that make it a masterpiece. In addition to showcasing the research of the museum's highly respected curatorial staff, this handsome volume highlights the remarkable photography of Michael Cavanagh and Kevin Montague, widely regarded as among the premier photographers of fine arts. For students, lovers, and collectors of art, Masterworks provides an inspiring and illuminating tour of the world's artistic traditions.
