Motor Neurone Disease A Family Affair:

Motor Neurone Disease David Oliver, 2014-05-08      Motor Neurone Disease David Oliver, 1994      Motor Neurone Disease David Oliver, 2011 Motor neurone disease MND is a progressive condition that damages the nervous system leaving muscles wasted and weak and causing loss of mobility and difficulties with speech swallowing and breathing MND tends to affect people over 40 and is most common between the ages of 50 and 70 There are about 5 000 people with MND at any one time in the UK The cause remains a mystery and there is no cure The third edition of this book gives a full update of treatments and resources available to help those diagnosed live life to the full Topics include what the disease is what the doctors will do and how to cope with the difficulties This new edition also examines possible dietary factors in causing the disease the latest on benefits and up to date thinking on drug trials Dr David Oliver a leading expert on MND shows how to treat not just the physical effects but also the emotional ones for the whole family Dr Oliver also explains the vital role of the Motor Neurone Disease Association      Palliative Care Nursing at a Glance C. Ingleton, P. J. Larkin, 2016-01-19 Palliative Care Nursing at a Glance is the perfect companion for nursing students health and social care practitioners and all those involved in palliative care delivery both in the clinical and home setting Written by an expert team of academics nurses educators and researchers it provides a concise and easy to read overview of all the concepts and clinical decision making skills necessary for the provision of good quality palliative and end of life care Divided into six sections the book includes coverage of all key clinical applications principles of symptom management palliative care approaches for a range of conditions and patient groups exploration of the roles of the multi professional team as well as ethical challenges Superbly illustrated with full colour illustrations throughout Provides information on delivery of care in a range of settings Broad coverage makes it ideal reading for anyone involved in palliative care delivery User friendly and accessible resource for those working in both specialist and non specialist adult settings      Palliative Care in Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (motor Neurone Disease) David Oliver, Gian Domenico Borasio, Declan Walsh, 2000 Although new treatments for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis motor neurone disease are being developed these at present offer only the potential to slow the disease process Therefore a palliative care approach to the care of the patient and their family is at the center of good clinical practice in ALS MND This book aims to provide an evidence based guide to the care of people with ALS MND including the control of symptoms the psychosocial care of patients and their families and care in bereavement The palliative care approach to the care of ALS MND is outlined and the role of the multidisciplinary team emphasized The international authorship are from many different disciplines and are all closely involved in the care of ALS patients giving a depth of practical knowledge and experience and allowing a comparison of the differences across cultures social circumstances health care systems and nations All contributors are clinicians involved in the care of people with ALS MND and they are able to provide clear guidelines of the care throughout the disease process from telling of the diagnosis to death The experience of patients and families are considered and case studies are provided to show the practical applications of the theoretical knowledge. An evidence based approach grounded in day to day care of patients is used. Different models of care are explored and the interaction of palliative care with other treatment regimes is addressed as the experience from the treatment of cancer has shown that there may easily be areas of conflict and confusion if there is a lack of clarity in the care provided for patients. The book aims to provide a reference for all involved in the care of patients with ALS MND including neurologists, general physicians, rehabilitationists, paramedical staff, general family practitioners and specialist palliative care teams. The care of a patient with ALS MND and their family is often a challenge but one all should take up so that patients can live life as fully as possible.

Physical Management in Neurological Rehabilitation Maria Stokes, 2004. Building upon the success of the first edition of this popular book, the new edition of Physical Management in Neurological Rehabilitation has been completely up dated and revised to reflect changes in practice today. The authors consider the theoretical basis and scientific evidence of effective treatment taking a multidisciplinary problem solving approach to patient management which involves patients and carers in goal setting and decision making. Book jacket.

Too Ill to Talk? Penny Rhodes, Neil Small, 2014-07-10. User involvement has become an important part of health policy initiatives during the last decade but how realistic is the concept and do all users want to be involved? This book brings the voices of people with serious illness and those caring for them into debate about how far health and social care services can reflect the views of users. Providing an overview of the literature on user involvement, the book looks at the policy and professional context within which user involvement is undertaken in particular user involvement in palliative care. The authors discuss two key concepts, palliative care and empowerment, and analyse the role of self help groups and new information and communication technologies in this context. The book focuses on the detailed narratives of people coping with three life threatening illnesses: cystic fibrosis, multiple sclerosis and motor neurone disease, and in this way the views and experiences of the user are brought into play to critique current policy and practice. Addressing a current health services issue in a refreshingly critical manner, the text challenges the assumption that user involvement is either easy to achieve or that it is necessarily welcomed by all parties. It will be valuable reading for students on health studies courses, health professionals and policy makers in health and social care.

Family Affairs Barker, Margaret, 2001. Palliative Care in Neurology Raymond Voltz, 2004. Palliative care is the duty of every neurologist, however, to date this has not been a standard feature of neurological practice or training. This book helps define a new field, namely palliative care in neurology. It brings together all necessary information for neurologists caring for a patient with advanced disease. Palliative care is an approach to the management of patients with life threatening illness that attempts to enhance comfort, relieve psychosocial and spiritual distress, assure respect for decision making, provide support for the family and prepare the patient and family for the end of life. This unique book covers each of the many dimensions of palliative care as they relate to patients with advanced neurological disorders. Basic principles of palliative care and specific ethical issues such as euthanasia food and hydration and advance directives are covered The needs of populations with specific neurological disorders are described and the management of symptoms that are common to all is explored in detail Each chapter introduces its topic using a case report that may be used directly for teaching purposes The authors have put together an invaluable resource which lays the foundation for further research in the field     Coping with a Hernia David Delvin,1998 Hernia surgery is one of the most common treatments done each year but many people who have them find it difficult to obtain all the information that would help them cope with the operation In this straightforward book Dr Delvin explains the causes and symptoms of hernias with advice to help you when you re talking to the doctor about the problems There have been enormous improvements in the treatments available and he explains the options and how you can get out of hospital and recover faster and more fully     Coping Successfully with Your Irritable Bowel Rosemary Nicol,1989 Irritable bowel syndrome is one of the hidden problems of modern living This book explains what it is and why it happens and also how stress diet your family history and even your general approach to life can play a part For each factor Rosemary Nicol explains how you can solve the problem or live with it more easily One person in three suffers from IBS at some time in their lives If you feel queasy when under stress or suffer from stomach aches and digestive problems you may need this book     Overcoming Jealousy Windy Dryden,1998 This book will enable you to think through whether you fears are reasonable and build relationships of confidence and trust     Coping with Strokes Tom Smith,2000 We all know how disabling a stroke can be but there is good news Recent medical advances improve the chances of prevention and of recovering after a stroke Find out about these new treatments and what you as carer or patient can do to spot the warning signs prevent an attack or in the event of a stroke to restore speech and movement from this informative book Tom Smith will also give you valuable advice for coping with the impact on family life and the emotional strain that a stroke can cause
