Life-Span Human Development Carol K. Sigelman, 1995 This topically organized research based text covers the physical cognitive and psychosocial aspects of human development with attention to all periods of the life span Its topical organization makes this text a truly unique alternative to traditional chronologically organized development texts By combining the best of the topical and chronological approaches the authors are able to present life span development as a motion picture rather than as a series of individual snapshots thus preserving the integrity of the life span development concept Although in the Second Edition the basic perspective remains unchanged the authors have sharpened the focus on themes such as the importance of the fit between person and environment and added emphasis on cultural and subcultural diversity in development Because of the complexity of many of the issues in human development Sigelman and Shaffer have aimed for a book that is highly readable and yet scholarly Through careful organization real life examples a clear and straightforward writing style apt use of concrete examples and analogies and a focus on the relevance of materials to students lives the authors have made even the most complex topics accessible to their readers Lifespan Anne V.

Gormly,1993-02 Human Development, a Lifespan Approach John Dworetzky,Nancy J. Davis,1989 Human Development Across the Lifespan John S. Dacey,John F. Travers,2002 This chronologically organized text is less expensive and briefer than most of the Human Lifespan texts Its numerous examples drawn from education nursing and psychology make the content relevant to students from a variety of majors and backgrounds while a highly praised study guide integrated into the text promotes and reinforces conceptual understanding The new edition includes increased material on cognitive development and expanded coverage of culture Study Guide for Sigelman's Life-span Human Development Elizabeth Rider,1999 Lifelong Human Development, Study Guide Alison Clarke-Stewart,Marion Perlmutter,Susan Friedman,1988-08-04 A chronologically organized research based comprehensive introduction to lifespan development by two of the foremost developmental psychologists in the field and a professional writer Provides broad even coverage of physical cognitive and social emotional development across the age stages Chapters cover history and theories including philosophical roots Charles Darwin child psychology and modern theories methods including research questions research design and ehctics heredity and environment including the nature nurture interaction prenatal development and birth physical and perceptual development cognitive development including language learning memory and intelligence social and emotional development death and dying Study Guide Carol K.
