A diagram illustrating a flying wing concept. It features a large, white, high-wing glider with a long, slender fuselage. Attached to the underside of the glider's wing, near the center, is a smaller, white, low-wing aircraft. The smaller aircraft has a distinct tail section. The entire assembly is shown against a light blue background, representing the sky. This diagram likely represents a concept for a stealth aircraft or a specialized reconnaissance vehicle, as mentioned in the text.
