Sims, Monica Koep, 2012 Idasa's Democracy Index initially developed for South Africa is being expanded into Southern Africa in an effort to broaden the capacity of individuals and organisations monitoring and supporting democratic governance efforts in the region This inaugural Democracy Index for Namibia is intended to set a benchmark for democracy to be measured against The tool assesses the country's depth of democracy through five focus areas participation elections accountability political rights and human dignity The research relies on expert analysis to answer a set of questions that interrogate how closely in practice democracy meets the broad ideal of self representative government More specifically to what extent can citizens control elected officials and government appointees who make decisions about public affairs And how equal are citizens to one another in this accountability process The purpose of the scores is to assist citizens in making their own judgements based on the information made available to stimulate national debate and to provide democracy promoters with a tool for identifying issues and needs that can be addressed by education advocacy training institution building and policy revision
