Language, Power and Intercultural Communication Alexandru Praisler, 2023-02-26 This book mainly addresses academics and students specialising in translation studies as well as practitioners in the field including translators, interpreters and subtitlers. It examines the mechanisms and components which make intercultural communication work as well as the forces and actors which hinder it. The book's translation translator oriented investigation of how power leaves imprints on the languages employed in communicating interculturally goes beyond the descriptive research method embarking upon an analytical one instead. The case studies include Romanian political speech and filmic discourse with a political substratum provided with annotations of their associated translations into English. In essence the volume considers multimodal translation as discourse and practice in close connection with the politics and policies governing them and under the dominance of the various contemporary media. It thus broadens the scope of translation studies traditionally a linguistics oriented field adding reading grids advanced by cultural studies and critical discourse analysis.
