Dekker, R. Posthoorn, 2007 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology

Brown, Isabel Stevenson, Ruth Reisinger, 1928      Makeshift Metropolis Witold Rybczynski, 2010-11-09 In this new work prizewinning author professor and Slate architecture critic Witold Rybczynski returns to the territory he knows best writing about the way people live just as he did in the acclaimed bestsellers Home and A Clearing in the Distance. In Makeshift Metropolis Rybczynski has drawn upon a lifetime of observing cities to craft a concise and insightful book that is at once an intellectual history and a masterful critique. Makeshift Metropolis describes how current ideas about urban planning evolved from the movements that defined the twentieth century such as City Beautiful, the Garden City and the seminal ideas of Frank Lloyd Wright and Jane Jacobs. If the twentieth century was the age of planning we now find ourselves in the age of the market. Rybczynski argues where entrepreneurial developers are shaping the twenty-first century city with mixed use developments, downtown living, heterogeneity, density and liveliness. He introduces readers to projects like Brooklyn Bridge Park, the Yards in Washington D.C. and further afield to the new city of Modi'in in Israel, sites that in this age of resource scarcity, economic turmoil and changing human demands challenge our notion of the city. Erudite and immensely engaging, Makeshift Metropolis is an affirmation of Rybczynski's role as one of our most original thinkers on the way we live today.
