GOALS

What were our goals in this project?	Were those goals achieved? (Y / N)
Create a new menu for Spring that highlights local, in-season produce within our food cost margins.	Yes

What new goals were added and achieved by project's end?
We wanted to include squash blossoms on the menu and sourced a vendor that could provide them for an appropriate cost.

LESSONS LEARNED

What went well on this project?	How would you improve these processes for next time, if applicable?	Assigned To
We were able to use an existing recipe for salad dressing on the new salad.	No improvements needed here: this salad will go on the event menu as well.	N/A
Made connections with a new cheese rep and lowered our food cost on the cheese plate.	We will continue to use this vendor and take advantage of bulk wholesale pricing.	N/A
The vendor we found for squash blossoms also has other local produce items that compete in price with larger food distributors.	We will have more access to local, seasonal produce for use in future menus through networking with our new contact.	Shaun

What did not go well on this project?	How would you improve these processes for next time, if applicable?	Assigned To
Prices of some of the local produce we wanted were prohibitively high once you factor in food waste, and we didn't realize that until we already had a stock in the restaurant.	Next time, we will vet ingredients for shelf life before we put them on the menu.	Michelle
We had to buy new plates for one of the salads, but realized after purchasing that they are much more fragile in the dishwasher than the previous plates.	These new plates are now hand wash only, and we have another shipment of plates from the previous vendor en route.	Greg
Many of our seasonal dishes are more expensive because of limited availability, and we were faced with having to educate customers on food cost and seasonality.	We will hold a meeting with front of house staff educating them on the language we will use with customers about price and seasonal availability of ingredients.	Shaun

Further Comments	This menu rollout went great! The squash blossoms and new salad went over very well! A guest even asked if we could serve the salad at her upcoming wedding on site. Supporting our new small farm produce vendor is allowing them to broaden their selection for future seasons, we look forward to working with them on Summer and Fall menus!

Climate Change and the Coast Bruce Glavovic, Mick Kelly, Robert Kay, Ailbhe Travers, 2014-12-04 Coastal communities are at the frontline of a changing climate Escalating problems created by sea level rise a greater number of severe coastal storms and other repercussions of climate change will exacerbate already pervasive impacts resulting from rapid coastal population growth and intensification of development To prosper in the coming decade

The Politics of Revenue Bargaining in Africa Anne Mette Kjær, Marianne S. Ulriksen, Ane Karoline Bak, 2023-11-30 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations This book examines the politics of revenue bargaining in Africa at a time when attention to domestic revenue mobilization has expanded immensely Measures to increase taxes and other revenues can but do not always lead to a process of bargaining where revenue providers negotiate for some kind of return This book offers in depth analyses of micro instances of revenue bargaining across five African countries Mozambique Senegal Tanzania Togo and Uganda The case studies all draw on a common theoretical framework combining the fiscal contract theory with the political settlement approach which enables a systematic exploration into what triggers revenue bargaining how these processes unfold and finally if and when they result in an agreement whether that is a fiscal contract or not From these empirically rich case narratives emerges a story of how power and initial bargaining position influence not only whether bargaining occurs in the first place but also the processes and their outcomes Less resourceful taxpayers find it harder to raise their voice but in some cases even these groups manage to ally with other civil society groups to protest tax reforms they perceive as unfair Indirect taxes such as VAT often trigger protests as do sudden changes in tax practices Revenue providers rarely call for improved services in return for paying tax which would be expected to nurture the foundation for a fiscal social contract Instead revenue providers are more likely to negotiate for tax reductions implying that governments efforts to increase revenue are impeded Indeed we find many instances of state society reciprocity when ruling elites try to be responsive to revenue providers demands The Politics of Revenue Bargaining in Africa hence provides insights into the nature and dynamics not only of revenue bargaining but of policymaking in general as well as its implications for state society reciprocity in Africa

Reducing Geographical Imbalances of Health Workers in Sub-Saharan Africa Christophe Lemiére, Christopher Herbst, Negda Jahanshahi, Ellen Smith, Agnes Soucat, 2010-12-01 The human resources crisis in the health sector has been gathering attention on the global stage To date however most of this attention has focused on shortages of health human resources HRH at the national level At least as important are problems at the sub national level Massive geographic and skill mix imbalances are reflected in the perilous undersupply of HRH in most rural areas Virtually all Sub Saharan African countries suffer from significant geographic imbalances Very little substantive information or documentation exists on the problem Even less is known about the lessons from policies aimed at addressing urban rural human resource imbalances let alone experiences of Sub Saharan Africa countries with such policies There also appears to be a disconnect between the objectives and efforts of policymakers on the one hand and the functioning of national health labor markets and labor market behavior on the other hand This disconnect hinders policy effectiveness and the efficient utilization of resources intended to narrow urban rural inequities In Sub Saharan Africa government policies often limited to the management of public sector vacancies appear to be elaborated prescribed and implemented independently of labor market considerations Partly as a result they are unable to effectively address urban rural imbalances which are an outcome of labor market dynamics This report discusses and analyzes labor market dynamics and outcomes including unemployment worker shortages and urban rural imbalances of categories of health workers from a labor economics perspective It then use insights from this perspective as a basis for elaborating policy options that incorporate the underlying labor market forces The goal of the study is to address undesirable outcomes including urban rural HRH imbalances more effectively The book is thus suitable for researchers policy analysts and policy makers with an interest in understanding and improving the allocation of human resources for health in the developing world
