Essilfie, Yunyun Gong, 2024-05-06 Africa is confronted with the triple burden of malnutrition it is also faced with the triple challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment In many African countries large proportions of the population rely on agriculture not only for their food but also for their livelihoods A transformed agricultural and food system is thus a necessary condition for addressing this double triple challenge Additionally post harvest and food waste and losses reduce the availability of sufficient quantities of safe edible and preferable foods At least one third of food produced at farm level is lost due to inappropriate storage infrastructure and agro processing technologies in developing countries and one third of food purchased is wasted at household and retail level Regional Review on Status and Trends in Aquaculture Development in Sub-Saharan Africa - 2015 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2017 The present regional review and synthesis for sub Saharan Africa SSA provides an overview of major issues and trends in the aquaculture sector between 2004 and 2014 with emphasis on outstanding issues over the last five years The regional review reflects development in 41 countries in SSA for which production was reported to FAO in 2014 The production volume and value data have been derived from the latest FAO global aquaculture dataset 1950 2014 FishStat Multicultural Education in an Age of Globalization Chinaka S. DomNwachukwu, 2019-05-13 Multicultural Education in an Age of Globalization Compelling Issues for Engagement starts out with a discussion of western colonization of the 19th and 20th centuries and the residual effects of colonialism in the forms of colonial mindset of power dominance and white racial superiority that have continued to challenge the hopes of a peaceful and more harmonious exchange and interaction in the 21st century global communities

Issues such as white privilege and cultural humility are discussed in depth. Subsequently the idea of globalization and the concept of global citizenship are also addressed in light of their implications for multicultural education curriculum and practice in the 21st century classrooms. The book identifies and discusses compelling issues that must be carefully addressed as we undertake multicultural education in the 21st century educational setting whether in the K 12 or higher education setting. Such issues include Affirmative Action, Gender Equity issues, Religion in the public school setting and the problem of Poverty in the 21st century societies.

Improving household consumption and expenditure surveys' food consumption metrics Fiedler, John L., Mwangi, Dena M., 2016-11-18. As the nature of global malnutrition changes there is a growing need and increasing urgency for more and better information about food consumption and dietary patterns. The past two decades have seen a dramatic increase in the number, availability and analysis of the food consumption data collected in a variety of multipurpose household surveys referred to collectively as household consumption and expenditure surveys (HCESs). These surveys are heterogeneous and their quality varies substantially by country. Still they share some common shortcomings in their measurement of food consumption, nutrient intakes and nutrition status that undermine their relevance and reliability for purposes of designing and implementing food policies and programs. This review crafts a strategic approach to the unfinished global agenda of improving HCESs' collection of food consumption data. Starting with the priority studies recommended by a 100 country HCES review (Smith, Dupriez and Troubat 2014) it focuses on a strategic subset of those studies that deal most directly and exclusively with the measurement of food and that are of fundamental importance to all HCES stakeholders in low and middle income countries. Drawing from the literature this study provides a more detailed, more circumspect justification as to why these particular studies are needed while identifying key hypotheses explaining why these studies are of growing urgency and demonstrating why now is a propitious time for undertaking them. The review also identifies important study design considerations while pointing out potential challenges to successful implementation stemming from technical, capacity, economic, administrative and political considerations. Six key studies are rank ordered from a global perspective as follows, taking into account: 1. the likely shared consensus that a topic is an important source of measurement error in estimating consumption; 2. the perceived urgency of the need for addressing a particular source of measurement error; 3. the perceived likelihood of success that is that the efforts will improve the accuracy of measurement; 4. whether or not the study entails modifying the questionnaire; 5. the ease with which a study may begin; and 6. the extent to which the study is independent of necessary negotiations with existing HCES stakeholders because of the types of changes it is likely to entail in either the questionnaire or the way the data have traditionally been processed.

Discourses of Globalisation and Higher Education Reforms Joseph Zajda, W. James Jacob, 2022-03-15. This book examines some of the major higher education reforms and policy shifts globally, particularly in the light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research. It critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current higher education and policy reforms and illustrates the way that changes in the relationship between the state and higher education policy affect current trends in higher education reforms Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research the chapters focus on globalisation ideology and higher education reforms and examine both the reasons and outcomes of higher education reforms and policy change The book analyses and evaluates the policy shifts in methodological approaches to globalisation and higher education reforms and their impact on education policy and pedagogy The book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between globalisation comparative education research and higher education reforms     Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015
