Terror and Counter-Terror in Contemporary British Children's Literature Blanka Grzegorzczuk, 2020-05-10 The widespread threat of terrorist and counter terrorist violence in the twenty first century has created a globalized context for social interactions transforming the ways in which young people relate to the world around them and to one another This is the first study that reads post 9 11 and 7 7 British writing for the young as a response to this contemporary predicament exploring how children's writers find the means to express the local conditions and different facets of the global wars around terror. The texts examined in this book reveal a preoccupation with overcoming various forms of violence and prejudice faced by certain groups within post terror Britain as well as a concern with mapping out their social relations with other groups and those concerns are set against the recurring themes of racist paranoia, anti immigrant hostility, politicized identities and growing up in countries transformed by the effects of terror and counter terror. The book concentrates on the relationship between postcolonial and critical race studies, Britain's colonial legacy and literary representations of terrorism, tracing thematic and formal similarities in the novels of both established and emerging children's writers such as Elizabeth Laird, Sumia Sukkar, Alan Gibbons, Muhammad Khan, Bali Rai, Nikesh Shukla, Malorie Blackman, Claire McFall, Miriam Halahmy and Sita Brahmachari. In doing so, this study maps new connections for scholars, students and readers of contemporary children's fiction who are interested in how such writing addresses some of the most pressing issues affecting us today, including survival after terror, migration and community building.

The Ex-Im Bank in the 21st Century Gary Clyde Hufbauer, Rita M. Rodriguez, 2001. President Franklin Roosevelt created the Export-Import Bank of the United States (Ex-Im Bank) in 1980 to promote US trade in the midst of the Great Depression At the outset the Ex Im Bank was instructed to supplement not compete with private sources of export finance Historically the Ex Im Bank filled gaps when the private sector was reluctant to finance exports to politically uncertain areas such as Latin America in the 1940s Europe in the 1950s and emerging markets more recently Critics now ask whether in the current era of vast private capital markets significant financing gaps still exist that require government action Put bluntly should the Ex Im Bank still be playing a role in financing US exports to emerging markets Since the 1970s the Ex Im Bank has faced a new challenge helping US exporters meet the financial competition from foreign export credit agencies ECAs such as COFACE in France and the Export Import Bank of Japan The Ex Im Bank has tried to cope with foreign ECAs in two different ways One way is to negotiate common rules for export financing under OECD auspices The other is to match credit terms offered by foreign ECAs A central question for the Ex Im Bank in the 21st century is whether this dual strategy still provides a viable answer to an array of new forms of competition spawned by foreign ECAs The Institute for International Economics sponsored a conference in May 2000 both to honor the Bank s 65th anniversary and to look ahead at challenges facing the Ex Im Bank This volume edited by former director of the Bank Rita Rodriguez and Institute Senior Fellow Gary Clyde Hufbauer presents the papers from the conference The papers both describe the Bank s current environment and identify new problems and opportunities in a global economy characterized by highly sophisticated private finance and intense competition for export markets This volume provides an analytical basis for evaluating the Ex Im Bank s future and suggests options that should be considered by President George W Bush and Congress Contributors Robert Rubin James Harmon Lorenz Schomerus J David Richardson Renato Sucupira Mauricio Moreira William Cline Peter Evans Kenneth Oye Allan Mendelowitz William Niskanen Robert Nardelli John Lipsky Daniel Zelikow Robert Hormats Hans Reich A Ian Gillespie Fumio Hoshi William Daley James Leach Lawrence Summers School ,1927 De Paul Law Review ,2003 Harvard Journal of Law & Gender ,2005 Shipbuilding and Shipping Record ,1921 Shipbuilding & Shipping Record ,1921
