Sharing the Adventure with the Student National Research Council, Board on Science Education, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, Planning Committee on Sharing the Adventure with the Student: Exploring the Intersections of NASA Space Science and Education: A Workshop, 2015-06-17 On December 23 2014 the Space Studies Board and the Board on Science Education of the National Research Council held a workshop on the NASA Science Mission Directorate SMD education program Sharing the Adventure with the Student The workshop brought together representatives of the space science and science education communities to discuss maximizing the effectiveness of the transfer of knowledge from the scientists supported by NASA's SMD to K12 students directly and to teachers and informal educators The workshop focused not only on the effectiveness of recent models for transferring science content and scientific practices to students but also served as a venue for dialogue between education specialists education staff from NASA and other agencies space scientists and engineers and science content generators Workshop participants reviewed case studies of scientists or engineers who were able to successfully translate their research results and research experiences into formal and informal student science learning Education specialists shared how science can be translated to education materials and directly to students and teachers shared their experiences of space science in their classrooms Sharing the Adventure with the Student is the summary of the presentation and discussions of the workshop

MEMS Sensors and Resonators

Frederic Nabki, 2020-05-27 Microelectromechanical systems MEMS have had a profound impact on a wide range of applications The degree of miniaturization made possible by MEMS technology has significantly improved the functionalities of many systems and the performance of MEMS has steadily improved as its uses augment Notably MEMS sensors have been prevalent in motion sensing applications for decades and the sensing mechanisms leveraged by MEMS have been continuously extended to applications spanning the detection of gases magnetic fields electromagnetic radiation and more In parallel MEMS resonators have become an emerging field of MEMS and affected subfields such as electronic timing and filtering and energy harvesting They have in addition enabled a wide range of resonant sensors For many years now MEMS have been the basis of various industrial successes often building on novel academic research Accordingly this Special Issue explores many research innovations in MEMS sensors and resonators from biomedical applications to energy harvesting gas sensing resonant sensing and timing

Missouri Conservationist, 2014 Education in Vietnam Martin Hayden, Thi Le Tran, 2024-08-02 Offering insights into the current and projected future state of the education system in Vietnam this edited volume is an authoritative sourcebook for scholars policy analysts academic staff and students Vietnam is well on its way to joining the dress circle of high achieving education nations in Asia International surveys of the academic aptitude and ability of the nation's youth consistently place it well above relevant regional and global averages This accomplishment is remarkable for a country with a gross domestic product per capita of only US 2 785 in 2020 The dynamics of Vietnam's national education system are comprehensively documented in the book Each of the country s education sectors is critically appraised as well as the culture of education in Vietnam Specific issues concerning funding and equity quality and accreditation the teaching of curriculum areas the internationalisation of the system and the provision of educational opportunities for young people with disabilities are carefully analysed against a background of relevant global trends With contributions from well established and highly respected local experts with high aspirations for the future development of the national education system in Vietnam this book will be a must read for academics and students of Southeast Asian studies and comparative education

Nutrition Lori A. Smolin,Mary B. Grosvenor,2019-01-14 Nutrition Science and Applications 4th Edition helps students develop the scientific understanding to support their personal and professional decisions Using a critical thinking approach Smolin brings nutrition out of the classroom and allows students to apply the logic of science to their own nutrition concerns both as consumers and as future scientists and health professionals

Invasive Birds Colleen T. Downs,Lorinda A. Hart,2020-12-07 Examining globally invasive alien birds the first part of this book provides an account of 32 global avian invasive species as listed by the Invasive Species Specialist Group ISSG It acts as a one stop reference volume it assesses current invasive status for each bird species including details of physical description diet introduction and invasion pathways breeding behaviour natural habitat It also looks at the environmental impact of each species as well as current and future control methods Full colour photographs assist with species identification and global distribution maps give a visual representation of the current known distributions of these species The second part of the book discusses the biogeographical aspects of avian invasions highlighting current and emerging invasive species across different regions of the world The third section considers the impact of invasive species on native communities problems associated with invasive bird management and the use of citizen science in the study of invasive birds

Dietary Nutrients, Additives and Fish Health Cheng-Sheng Lee,2015-05-05 Fish nutrition can be the deciding factor between a robust and healthy farmed fish population and low aquaculture production In an age where chemicals and antibiotics are under greater scrutiny than ever a strong understanding of the role of nutrients and feed additives is essential in the aquaculture industry Dietary Nutrients Additives and Fish Health is a comprehensive review of dietary nutrients antinutritional factors and toxins and non nutrient dietary additives and their effects on fish performance and immune system function as well as overall health The book opens with an overview of fish immune systems and health Subsequent chapters delve into proteins and amino acids lipids and fatty acids carbohydrates beta glucans vitamins minerals antinutrients mycotoxins nucleotides prebiotics probiotics organic acids and their salts and plant extracts and their impacts on fish health growth and development The text then concludes with a chapter on feeding practices Authored by leaders in aquaculture Dietary Nutrients Additives and Fish Health will be an invaluable resource to graduate students researchers and professionals alike

Recent Advances in $\gamma\delta$ T Cell Biology: New Ligands, New Functions, and New Translational Perspectives Dieter Kabelitz, Julie Dechanet-Merville, 2016-02-16

Gamma delta T cells are a small subset of T lymphocytes in the peripheral circulation but constitute a major T cell population at other anatomical localizations such as the epithelial tissues. In contrast to conventional T cells, the available number of germline genes coding for T cell receptor (TCR) variable elements of T cells is very small. Moreover, there is a preferential localization of T cells expressing given Vgamma and Vdelta genes in certain tissues. In humans, T cells expressing the Vg9Vd2 encoded TCR account for anywhere between 50 and 95% of peripheral blood T cells, whereas cells expressing non Vd2 genes dominate in mucosal tissues. In mice, there is an ordered appearance of T cell waves during embryonic development resulting in preferential localization of T cells expressing distinct VgammaVdelta genes in the skin, the reproductive organs, or gut epithelia. The major function of T cells resides in local immunosurveillance and immune defense against infection and malignancy. This is supported by the identification of ligands that are selectively recognized by the TCR. As an example, human Vgamma9Vdelta2 T cells recognize phosphorylated metabolites (phosphoantigens) that are secreted by many pathogens but can also be overproduced by tumor cells, providing a basis for a role of these T cells in both anti-infective and anti-tumor immunity. Similarly, the recognition of endothelial protein C receptor by human non Vdelta2 T cells has recently been identified to provide a link for the role for such T cells in immunity against epithelial tumor cells and cytomegalovirus-infected endothelial cells. In addition to classical functions such as cytokine production and cytotoxicity, recent studies suggest that subsets of T cells can exert additional functions such as regulatory activity and quite surprisingly, professional antigen-presenting capacity. It is currently not well known how this tremendous extent of functional plasticity is regulated and what is the extent of TCR ligand diversity. Due to their non-MHC-restricted recognition of unusual stress-associated ligands, T cells have raised great interest as to their potential translational application in cell-based immunotherapy. Topics of this Research Focus include: Molecular insights into the activation and differentiation requirements of T cells; role of pyrophosphates and butyrophilin molecules for the activation of human T cells; role of T cells in tumor immunity and in other infectious and non-infectious diseases and many others. We are most grateful to all colleagues who agreed to write a manuscript. Thanks to their contributions, this E-book presents an up-to-date overview on many facets of the still exciting T cells.
