Report to the Nation

2006 - 2009

Knowledge is the foundation of a nation's progress. It is the engine of growth, the source of innovation, and the key to sustainable development. The National Knowledge Commission (NKC) was established in 2005 to study and recommend measures for the development of knowledge infrastructure and the promotion of knowledge-based growth in India. This report presents the findings and recommendations of the NKC over its three-year tenure.

The NKC has identified several key areas for focus, including the development of a robust knowledge infrastructure, the promotion of knowledge-based industries, the enhancement of human capital, and the strengthening of governance and institutional frameworks. The Commission has also emphasized the importance of knowledge in the context of India's aspirations for becoming a global leader in the 21st century.

The report outlines a comprehensive strategy for the development of knowledge in India, covering various sectors such as education, research, innovation, and entrepreneurship. It also addresses the challenges and opportunities associated with the knowledge economy and provides a roadmap for the future.
