Patrick Kimuyu, 2017-11-06 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject Politics Environmental Policy grade 1 Egerton University Public Health course Climate Change language English abstract Climate change seems to be a unique phenomenon owing to the numerous controversies surrounding it This is why there exists a great divide between environmentalists and their challengers over the issue of climate change To the present the debate on climate change has taken diverse perspectives in which the critical issue is whether climate change is a factual or false phenomenon In order to enhance understanding over the issue of climate change a number of international agencies have been formed One of the most proactive agencies that have immense contribution to the issue is the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC This scientific intergovernmental body was established in 1988 by the United Nations Environment Programme UNEP and the World Meteorological Organization WMO Following its endorsement by the UN General Assembly the same year IPCC became one of the organizations under the auspices of the UN Its core responsibility is to review and assess scientific socio economic and technical information related to climate change and prepare assessment reports for the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC Its reports focus on the risks of human induced climate change as well as its potential socio economic and environmental impacts As such

IPCC reports propose the most appropriate mitigation approaches to climate change Since its inception IPCC has contributed immensely to the assessment of climate change Therefore this paper provides a comprehensive discussion on IPCC s contribution to the climate change debate It will also present a critical assessment of the linkage between the agency s values and interests its advocacy positions and its use of science Climate in Peril Alex Kirby, United Nations Environment Programme, 2009 Climate in Peril A Popular Guide to the Latest IPCC Reports presents the substance of the Climate Change 2007 Synthesis Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change in simplified language and structure The guide intended for lay readers is a joint publication of GRID Arendal and SMI Books with the generous support of the Norwegian Pollution Control Authority and the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency IPCC Report on the Physical Science of Climate Change Kevin Edward McCarthy, 2013 Discusses the recent Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC report on the physical science basis of climate change Scientific Assessment of Climate Change Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. Media and Global Climate Knowledge Risto Kunelius, Elisabeth Eide, Matthew Tegelberg, Dmitry Yagodin, 2016-11-24 This book is a broad and detailed case study of how journalists in more than 20 countries worldwide covered the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC Fifth Assessment AR5 reports on the state of scientific knowledge relevant to climate change Journalism it demonstrates is a key element in the transnational communication infrastructure of climate politics It examines variations of coverage in different countries and locations all over the world It looks at how IPCC scientists review the role of media reflects on how media relate to decision making structures and cultures analyzes how key journalists reflect on the challenges of covering climate change and shows how the message of IPCC was distributed in the global networks of social media Carbon Politics and the Failure of the Kyoto Protocol Gerald Kutney, 2014-02-03 Carbon Politics and the Failure of Kyoto charts the framework and political evolution of the Kyoto Protocol negotiations and examines the ensuing failure of the international community to adequately address climate change The focus is not on the science or consequences of climate change but on the political gamesmanship of the major players throughout the UNFCCC negotiation process More than an updated history of the subject matter this book provides a detailed study of the carbon targets which became the biggest influencing factor on the reaction of nations to Kyoto s binding agreements The book provides an in depth analysis of the leading nations motives including the US China and Germany in entering the negotiations in particular their economic interests Despite the effort to combat climate change in politics that the negotiations represent the book concludes that an agreement which requires almost 200 very different nations to agree on a single protocol is doomed to failure The book offers a novel contribution to our understanding of this failure and suggests alternative frameworks and policies to tackle what is arguably the most complex political issue of our time Climate Change 2022 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2023-06-22 The Working Group II contribution to the Sixth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC provides a comprehensive assessment of the scientific literature relevant to climate change impacts adaptation and vulnerability The report recognizes the interactions of climate ecosystems and biodiversity and human societies and integrates across the natural ecological social and economic sciences It emphasizes how efforts in adaptation and in reducing greenhouse gas emissions can come together in a process called climate resilient development which enables a liveable future for biodiversity and humankind The IPCC is the leading body for assessing climate change science IPCC reports are produced in comprehensive objective and transparent ways ensuring they reflect the full range of views in the scientific literature Novel elements include focused topical assessments and an atlas presenting observed climate change impacts and future risks from global to regional scales Available as Open Access on Cambridge Core The Ocean and Cryosphere in a Changing Climate Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2022-05-19 The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC is the leading international body for assessing the science related to climate change It provides policymakers with regular assessments of the scientific basis of human induced climate change its impacts and future risks and options for adaptation and mitigation This IPCC Special Report on the Ocean and Cryosphere in a Changing Climate is the most comprehensive and up to date assessment of the observed and projected changes to the ocean and cryosphere and their associated impacts and risks with a focus on resilience risk management response options and adaptation measures considering both their potential and limitations It brings together knowledge on physical and biogeochemical changes the interplay with ecosystem changes and the implications for human communities It serves policymakers decision makers stakeholders and all interested parties with unbiased up to date policy relevant information This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Climate Change Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change,1991-02 Climate Change is the report of Working Group III of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC established in 1988 by the World Meteorological Organization and UNEP to address the threat of global warming on an international scale Climate Change 2001: Synthesis Report Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. Working Group I.,2001 The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC was set up jointly by UNEP and the World Meteorological Organisation in 1988 to provide periodic scientific analysis of the causes impacts and possible policy response options to climate change issues This synthesis report is the 4th and final part of the IPCC s third assessment report and contains information on nine policy relevant questions regarding the IPCC's 2001 assessment. It is intended to assist governments individually and collectively to formulate appropriate adaptation and mitigation responses to the threat of human induced climate change.

The Frozen Climate Views of the IPCC: An Analysis of AR6 Marcel Crok, Andy May, 2023-05-29

The IPCC has completed its sixth climate change assessment cycle consisting of seven reports in total collectively known as AR6. A team of eight scientists in addition to several anonymous expert reviewers from the Clintel network have analyzed several claims from the Working Group 1 The Physical Science Basis and Working Group 2 Impacts Adaptation and Vulnerability reports. The team and reviewers are from Spain, Canada, Italy, Germany, Norway, The Netherlands, the U.K. and the U.S. In every chapter, this book documents biases and errors in the IPCC assessment. The errors are worse in the WG2 report but are also present in the WG1 report. For example, the IPCC ignored 52 highly relevant peer review articles showing that normalised disaster losses saw no increase attributable to climate change yet highlighted one out of 53 papers that claimed there is an increase in losses. That one paper is not surprisingly flawed but apparently its conclusions were so appealing to the IPCC that they fell for it. The strategy of the IPCC seems to be to hide any good news about climate change. We are on a highway to climate hell, said UN boss Guterres recently. But an in-depth look at mortality data shows that climate-related deaths are at an all-time low. Well-known economist Bjorn Lomborg published this excellent news in a 2020 peer-reviewed paper but the IPCC chose to ignore it. Back in 2010, errors in the fourth WG2 report led to the investigation of the IPCC by the InterAcademy Council. This IAC Review recommended among other recommendations that having author teams with diverse viewpoints is the first step toward ensuring that a full range of thoughtful views are considered. This important recommendation is still ignored by the IPCC. The AR6 Working Group 1 report is not free from bias and misleading conclusions either. The IPCC tries to rewrite climate history by erasing the existence of the Holocene Thermal Maximum, a warm period between 10,000 and 6,000 years ago, by embracing a new hockey stick graph that is the result of cherry-picked temperature proxies. They ignore temperature reconstructions that show significantly more variability in the past. The IPCC claims there is an acceleration in the rate of sea level rise in recent decades. We show this claim is flawed because the IPCC ignores decadal natural variability in the sea level rate. We also show that the IPCC sea level tool made available for the first time shows a mysterious and unlikely jump upward in 2020. Canadian economist Ross McKittrick pointed out that all models used by the IPCC show too much warming in the troposphere both globally and in the tropics where models predict a hot spot. Observed warming indicates a moderate climate sensitivity between 1 and 2.5 degrees Celsius while the IPCC claims a climate sensitivity of 3 degrees. On top of that, the IPCC is addicted to its highest greenhouse gas emission scenario, the so-called RCP8.5 or now SSP5 8.5 scenario. In recent years, several papers have demonstrated that this scenario is simply not plausible and should not be used for policy purposes. Deep inside the WG1 report, the IPCC acknowledges that this scenario has a low likelihood but this very important remark was not highlighted in the Summary for Policy Makers so the media and policy makers are unaware of this. This implausible scenario is commonly used in the report IPCC Special Report on the Regional Impacts of Climate Change R. T. Watson, 2000

Environmental Apocalypse in Science and Art Sergio Fava, 2013-01-04 At a time when it is clear that climate change adaptation and mitigation are failing this book examines how our assumptions about valid and usable knowledge are preventing effective climate action Through a cross disciplinary empirically based analysis of climate science and policy the book situates the failures of climate policy in the cultural history of prediction and its interfaces with policy Fava calls into question the current interfaces between scientific research and climate policy by tracing multiple connections between modelling epistemology politics food security religion art and the apocalyptic Demonstrating how the current domination of climate policy by models and scenarios is part of the problem the book examines how artistic practices are a critical location to ask questions differently rethink environmental futures and activate social change The analysis starts with another moment of climatic change in recent western history the overlap of the Little Ice Age and the scientific revolution during which intense climatic scientific and political change were contemporary with mathematical calculation of the apocalypse Dealing with the need for complex answers to complex and urgent questions this is essential reading for those interested in climate action interdisciplinary research and methodological innovation The empirical analyses amount to a methodological experiment across history of science theology art theory and history architecture future studies climatology computer modelling and agricultural policy This book is a major contribution to understanding how we are precluding effective climate action and designing futures that resemble our worst nightmares Getting the Climate Science Facts Right Medani P. Bhandari, 2022-09-01 Getting the Climate Science Facts Right discusses climate change science with reference to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC Addressing climate change is the most important public priority of the 21st Century Unlike many issues however this issue is being driven by both science and its interface with politics The main institution for bridging this division between science and international politics is the IPCC As such it is the main source of the facts from which climate change policy is developed This book describes the ways in which the IPCC arrives at these facts and so can be sure they are complete and evidence based Seldom in history has science had such a direct relationship with politics The negotiation of an international policy regime requires at its outset an agreement on the facts In this case the facts are scientific complex and contentious Governments have recognized this and have by using the IPCC set up institutional machinery to provide facts from a source and in a manner that they can accept The way in which the IPCC functions is unique in that it melds the way in which science achieves consensus with the way governments do at the international level Starting with a process to examine review and debate scientific findings leading to a consensus about scientific fact usually expressed as probabilities that the findings will hold over time the IPCC then concludes by using the kind of consensus development mechanism that the United Nations typically uses to achieve agreements leading to the formation of policy regimes The book examines the structure of the IPCC its composition and its procedures in order to achieve an understanding of its role and future Climate Change 2022 - Mitigation of Climate Change 2 Volume Paperback Set ,2023-08-31 Politically Incorrect Guide to Climate Change Marc Morano,2018-02-26 Updated to include new section on the Green New Deal The climate scare ends with this book SEAN HANNITY This book arms every citizen with a comprehensive dossier on just how science economics and politics have been distorted and corrupted in the name of saving the planet MARK LEVIN Less freedom More regulation Higher costs Make no mistake those are the surefire consequences of the modern global warming campaign waged by political and cultural elites who have long ago abandoned fact based science for dramatic fearmongering in order to push increased central planning The Politically Incorrect Guide to Climate Change gives a voice backed by statistics real life stories and incontrovertible evidence to the millions of deplorable Americans skeptical about the multibillion dollar climate change complex whose claims have time and time again been proven wrong
