John Spiers, Philip Booth, Neil Russel, 2016-07-12 This book makes the case for ordinary people to get the health and social care which the state has promised them for over 60 years but which has not been delivered What is the case for choice How can choice be made real for the individual What impact can genuine individually financially empowered choice have on effective funding purchasing delivery and outcomes How can a genuine market grow and thrive How can the quest for choice include the large numbers of NHS and social care staff on whom success depends The book urges individual financial empowerment through a life long health savings account for all NHS and social services Parliamentary Debates

(Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 2007 Distant Publics Jennifer Rice, 2012-08-19 Urban sprawl is omnipresent in America and has left many citizens questioning their ability to stop it In Distant Publics Jenny Rice examines patterns of public discourse that have evolved in response to development in urban and suburban environments Centering her study on Austin Texas Rice finds a city that has simultaneously celebrated and despised development Rice outlines three distinct ways that the rhetoric of publics counteracts development through injury claims memory claims and equivalence claims In injury claims rhetors frame themselves as victims in a dispute Memory claims allow rhetors to anchor themselves to an older deliberative space rather than to a newly evolving one Equivalence claims see the benefits on both sides of an issue and here rhetors effectively become nonactors Rice provides case studies of development disputes that place the reader in the middle of real life controversies and evidence her theories of claims based public rhetorics She finds that these methods comprise the most common though not exclusive vernacular surrounding development and shows how each is often counterproductive to its own goals Rice further demonstrates that these claims create a particular role or public subjectivity grounded in one's own feelings which serves to distance publics from each other and the issues at hand Rice argues that rhetoricians have a duty to transform current patterns of public development discourse so that all individuals may engage in matters of crisis She articulates its sustainability as both a goal and future disciplinary challenge of rhetorical studies and offers tools and methodologies toward that end Traumatic Stress and Long-Term Recovery Katie E.

Cherry, 2015-08-21 This evidence rich collection takes on the broad diversity of traumatic stress in both its causes and outcomes as well as the wide variety of resources available for recovery Its accessible coverage shows varied presentations of post traumatic stress affected by individual family and group contexts including age previous trauma exposure and presence or lack of social resources as well as long term psychological physical and social consequences Contributors focus on a range of traumatic experiences from environmental disasters wildfires Hurricane Katrina to the Holocaust from ambiguous loss to war captivity And the book s final section Healing after Trauma spotlights resilience forgiveness religion and spirituality using concepts from positive psychology Included among the topics The Great East Japan earthquake tsunami and nuclear disaster Posttraumatic stress in the aftermath of mass shootings Psychosocial consequences appraisal adaptation and bereavement after trauma Loss chaos survival and despair the storm after the storms Aging with trauma across the lifetime and experiencing trauma in old age On bereavement and grief a therapeutic approach to healing Psychologists social workers researchers studying trauma and resilience and mental health professionals across disciplines will welcome Traumatic Stress and Long Term Recovery as a profound source of insight into stress and loss coping and healing
