Bulletin - Georgetown University Medical Center Georgetown University. Medical Center, 1948 Social Science Abstracts , 1930 Napoleon's Conquest of Europe Frederick C. Schneid, 2005-05-30 Poised to strike at England in the summer of 1805 Napoleon found himself facing a coalition of European powers determined to limit his territorial ambitions Still in less than one hundred days Napoleon's armies marched from the English Channel to Central Europe crushing the armies of Austria and Russia the first step in his conquest of Europe In this telling new account Schneid demonstrates how this was possible Schneid details how Napoleon's victory over the Third Coalition was the product of years of diplomatic preparation and the formation of French alliances He played upon the prevailing conditions of the European state system and the internal politics of the Holy Roman Empire to improve France's strategic position This war must be understood in the context of the French Revolution and its influence on major and minor European states In some cases Napoleonic diplomacy returned to France's traditional and historic relationships in others he capitalized upon longstanding competition and animosities to gather allies and create wedges Schneid approaches the campaign from a broad diplomatic economic and military perspective including not only the French perspective but the points of view of the other powers involved as well This telling account reveals that the road to Vienna was paved long before Napoleon's armies marched upon the enemies arrayed against them Seminar Studies in History David Gordon Wright, 1970 Napoleon's Legacy David Laven, Lucy Riall, 2000-02 A revisionist collection of essays which reassess the legacy of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars on the governments of Restoration Europe The papers are based on recent research
