Inspiration Simple Projects Jan Ray, 2001-03      Innovative Teaching Strategies in Nursing and Related Health Professions Debra Hagler, Beth L. Hultquist, Martha J. Bradshaw, 2024-09-17

Learners are accessing and organizing information much differently than they did only a few years ago. Technology has changed the way students learn and educators teach. The updated Innovative Teaching Strategies in Nursing and Related Health Professions Ninth Edition details the trends in teaching strategies and educational technology that promote effective learning for today's students. The Ninth Edition has been updated to provide the most current information and strategies for online learning and incorporating technology across settings. Chapters on blended learning and study abroad programs help students to gain a more diverse and increased global perspective. Highlighting innovative teaching techniques and real world illustrations of the educational strategies, this text goes beyond theory to offer practical application principles that educators can count on.      How Sixth Grade Students Used Electronic Concept Mapping Technology to Write Narrative and Compare/contrast Essays Kristina Najera, 2011

The purpose of this study was to examine how sixth grade students used electronic concept mapping (ECM) software Inspiration to support the writing of narrative and compare contrast essays. Prompted think aloud protocols (PTAP) and stimulated recalls were used to uncover the factors that influenced students' use of ECM software. Additionally, this study explored the differences, if any, in how above average writers used the software to plan, draft, and revise essays compared with average and below average writers. The classroom teacher and the librarian provided instruction in how to use Inspiration to create four essays over the course of the school year. Qualitative data analysis revealed that the most predominant factor that influenced students' use of ECM software was instruction. Furthermore, the data revealed that all students wrote narrative essays that were longer and included more new details and more elaboration of existing details. Additionally, there were some instances in which above average writers made decisions based on their knowledge of writing that were different from decisions made by average and below average writers. Findings indicate that teachers' instructional delivery is more likely to help students use technology to support writing when they integrate knowledge of pedagogy, content, and technology. Implications for professional development and future research are provided.
