The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya M. Mulinge, N. Arasa, 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya Journal of Student Affairs in Africa Volume 1, Issues 1 and 2, 2014-02-28 The Journal of Student Affairs in Africa JSAA is an independent peer reviewed multi disciplinary open access academic journal that publishes scholarly research and reflective discussions about the theory and practice of student affairs in Africa The JSAA strives to be the foremost academic journal dealing with the theory and practice of the student affairs domain in universities on the African continent and an indispensable resource for national policy makers the executive leadership of universities and colleges dealing with student affairs deans of students and other senior student affairs professionals as well as institutional researchers and academics and students focused on the field of higher education studies and student affairs
