John Brown And His Guide:

John Brown 1800-1859: A Biography Fifty Years After Oswald Garrison Villard, 2024-02-19 The present volume is inspired by a belief that fifty years after the Harper's Ferry tragedy the time is ripe for a study of John Brown free from bias from the errors in taste and fact of the mere panegyrist and from the blind prejudice of those who can see in John Brown nothing but a criminal. The pages that follow were written to detract from or champion no man or set of men but to put forth the essential truths of history as far as ascertainable and to judge Brown his followers and associates in the light thereof.

Preface John Brown May 9 1800 December 2 1859 was a prominent leader in the American abolitionist movement in the decades preceding the Civil War. First reaching national prominence in the 1850s for his radical abolitionism and fighting in Bleeding Kansas Brown was captured tried and executed by the Commonwealth of Virginia for a raid and incitement of a slave rebellion at Harper's Ferry in 1859. In October 1859 Brown led a raid on the federal armory at Harper's Ferry Virginia which became West Virginia intending to start a slave liberation movement that would spread south. He had prepared a Provisional Constitution for the revised slavery-free United States that he hoped to bring about. He seized the armory but seven people were killed and ten or more were injured. Brown intended to arm slaves with weapons from the armory but only a few slaves joined his revolt. Those of Brown's men who had not fled were killed or captured by local militia and U.S. Marines. The latter led by Robert E. Lee. Brown was tried for treason against the Commonwealth of Virginia the murder of five men and inciting a slave insurrection. He was found guilty of all charges and was hanged on December 2 1859 the first person executed for treason in the history of the United States.
