It tells the complete story of the 2012 Games from inception through the successful bidding process and the planning and preparation phase to delivery, the post Games period and legacy. Written by a world class team of international Olympic scholars, the book offers critical analysis of the social, cultural, political, historical, economic and sporting context of the Games. The book is divided into two volumes. Volume Two, Celebrating the Games, examines the period of competition and immediately afterwards, covering key topics such as London welcomes the world, hospitality and the look of the games, Experiencing the games, spectators, tourists, volunteers, shoppers, viewers, Media and communications, Running the games, Creating Olympic celebrities, Protesting the games, Commerce, retail and consumption, Documenting London 2012 in films and books, The legacy of the 2012 Games for London, the UK and the Olympic Movement. Sticking Points Haydn Shaw, 2013-07-22 This is the first time in American history that we have had four different generations working side by side in the workplace: the Traditionalists born before 1945, the Baby Boomers born 1945-1964, Gen X born 1965-1980 and the Millennials born 1981-2001. Haydn Shaw, popular business speaker and generational expert, has identified 12 places where the 4 generations typically come apart in the workplace and in life as well. These sticking points revolve around differing attitudes toward managing one's own time, texting, social media, organizational structure, and of course clothing preferences. If we don't learn to work together and stick together around these 12 sticking points, then we'll be wasting a lot of time fighting each other instead of enjoying a friendly and productive team. Sticking Points is a must-read book that will help you understand the generational differences you encounter while teaching how we can learn to speak one another's language and get better results together.
