South African Foreign Policy David R Black, David Hornsby, 2018-04-19 This book considers the identity direction and intentions embodied in post apartheid South African Foreign Policy It aims to deepen the understanding of this evolving post apartheid foreign policy through an exploration of the nature and trajectory of key bilateral relationships from both the global South Brazil China Iran the AU and North Japan and the UK This window on the country's international relations enriches understanding of the normative and structural factors that influence not only South African foreign policy but those of what Jordaan 2003 calls emerging middle powers as they seek to position themselves as influential actors in international affairs By sketching the contours of key South African relationships the contributors offer illuminating insights into the cross pressures shaping South African foreign policy In addition they also add depth to the emerging middle power concept by exploring four areas where the tendencies and tensions of emerging middle power foreign policies are apparent regionalism multilateralism reform of global governance and approach to moral leadership This book was previously published as a special issue of Commonwealth and Comparative Politics

Sport Business in Leading Economies James J. Zhang, Haiyan Huang, John Nauright, 2017-12-04 From a renowned group of international scholars this new work examines how leading economic countries use sport business to drive and further economic development by raising brand awareness country as a brand transforming lagging communities and enhancing travel and tourism in the country

Making Public in a Privatized World David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past

Learning for a Better Future Suzanne Hattingh, 2021-12-31 Various international scholars and associates of the PASCAL Place Social Capital and Learning Regions International Observatory Africa hub under the auspices of the Centre for Local Economic Development CENLED based at the University of Johannesburg UJ have contributed chapters in this scholarly book The book aims to demonstrate how a combination of globalisation pandemics and the impact of innovation and technologies are driving towards a world in which traditional ideas are being challenged The book carries forward a dual context and relevance to South African social educational economic and cultural development and the broader international context and action directed at how lifelong learning for all can be fostered in communities as a foundation for a just human centred sustainable world The distinctive contribution of this book to the production of a local body of knowledge lies in the symbiotic relationships between these objectives so that South Africa could serve as a test case in working towards approaches that have a wider international significance

India-Africa Economic Relations in the New Global

Economy Rick Rowden, 2025-03-18 While there have been many books about China's growing economic role in Africa this book explores the much less well known story of India's growing economic role in Africa And like the big debates about China's role in Africa this book similarly asks if India is acting as a helpful development partner in Africa an exploitative new colonizer or if the answer ultimately has to do with the degree of agency exercised by African governments While the book documents the significant increase in Indian aid trade and FDI in Africa in the new millennium it also offers much more It comprehensively looks at theories of economic development the debates about the role of trade and industrial policies in economic development strategies colonial and post colonial literature and controversial features of today's global political economy as the background to study Africa and frames Africa India economic relations in these broad contexts The book reviews the history of India's diplomacy trade and investment in African countries since decolonization with a focus on the increased economic ties of the past two decades The main question examined is about the longterm impact that India's economic relations are having in African economies and if India is helping Africa to successfully develop over time or not The author examines India's economic and strategic interests in the African region and offers a comparative analysis of Africa's trade with India China the European Union and other African nations The book also explores a number of outstanding issues in India Africa relations today such as Africa's role as a source of oil gas and critical minerals needed by India the lifesaving role of Indian generic medicines across the continent the nature of the agricultural development model that India is introducing in Africa and key areas where Indian and African governments are cooperating in the international arena The book offers a critical and in depth look into the partnerships India has developed with African countries and contributes to the debate on economic relations between a more developed emerging market like India and less developed countries A major contribution to the emerging area of South South economics this book part of the Critical Political Economy of South Asia series will be useful for scholars and researchers of economics development economics development studies public policy diplomacy African studies political economy South Asian economics and international politics and trade

South Africa and the UN Human Rights Council

Eduard Jordaan, 2019-09-18 This book provides a detailed analysis of South Africa's actions on the UN Human Rights Council examining the country's positions on civil and political rights economic rights and development social groups whose rights are frequently violated and abuses in specific countries The most detailed and comprehensive study of any country's record on the UN Human Rights Council to date this book demonstrates that despite occasional support for human rights South Africa's overall record ranged from opposing to failing to support human rights This is compounded by an anti Western or anti imperial edge to South Africa s positions on the UNHRC Using South Africa as a study case of a liberal country consistently behaving illiberally this book therefore challenges the widespread belief in international relations theory typically found in liberal and constructivist thought that there is an alignment of domestic political society and foreign policy values Addressing ongoing debates since the presidency of Nelson Mandela about the place of human rights in South Africa s foreign policy South Africa and the UN Human Rights Council will be useful to students and scholars of international relations human rights international law and African politics

Pro-Poor Strategies in Urban Water Provisioning Akosua Sarpong Boakye-Ansah, 2021-02-25 Water utilities are the main instrument for countries to achieve universal service coverage In pursuing universal service coverage water utilities have turned to pro poor water services to extend water services in low income areas This thesis discusses the use of pro poor water services by water utilities in Kenya with the intention of highlighting the dimensions of the approach that require attention of policy makers and practitioners when engaging with the concept Based on the analysis of the technologies financial and organisational arrangements associated with the pro poor concept this thesis shows that the use of pro poor strategies allows water utilities to reduce the risks of servicing low income areas while still claiming to fulfil their mandate of providing access to all in a commercially viable manner The analysis also shows that rather than a decision of the water utility the choice for pro poor strategies emerges as the result of a consensus or compromise between the different actors that constitute the broader institutional environment in which water utilities operate The thesis concludes that while pro poor water services may serve the interests of water utilities and other stakeholders in the absence of well directed subsidies and proper monitoring they will not result in low income households benefiting from more affordable and
