The Optician and Scientific Instrument Maker, 1920 Teaching Literacy in Urban Schools Barbara Purdum-Cassidy, Lakia M. Scott, 2018-03-02 Today's public schools represent greater student diversity than ever before in the history of the United States yet pedagogical approaches as mandated by state education agencies and school districts superimpose mainstream curricula and instructional practices which ultimately disadvantage the academic outcomes of the majority minority African American and Hispanic Latino students Unfortunately national report findings also heighten the educational crisis that exists for Black and Brown children with regard to reading and writing achievement As a result there is need to deeply explore the relationship between Black and Brown student literacy achievement and educational policy teacher education program curriculum and assessment This book seeks to provide some practical insights guided by conceptual and contextual knowledge by understanding how to teach urban African American and Hispanic Latino students by discussing culturally appropriate instructional strategies that have demonstrated success among African American and Hispanic Latino students This book will showcase successful models for teaching literacy to urban student through a discussion of topics that include 1 increasing literacy achievement and motivation 2 multicultural literacy practices and 3 early and elementary literacy instruction Developing Knowledge Communities through Partnerships for Literacy Chestin Auzenne-Curl, Cheryl J. Craig, 2021-09-20 Developing Knowledge Communities through Partnerships for Literacy explores the development of knowledge communities safe spaces on the educational landscape where research and professional development with literacy teachers and writers can unfurl Resisting the Kinder-Race Christopher P. Brown, 2021 This book explores how the current process of schooling that frames public education through economic rather than democratic terms is fundamentally flawed why it must change and how all members and participants within the early childhood and elementary school communities must be a part of the reform process The work is based on the author's recent studies of stakeholders in the changed kindergarten as well as earlier studies examining the impact of reforms on classrooms pre and in service teachers students families administrators teacher educators and other education stakeholders By examining these issues empirically practically and theoretically the author illuminates the complexity of what is currently occurring in kindergarten and other early childhood classrooms across the U S Then Brown skillfully puts forward ideas for change that are practical and achievable in developing systems of schooling that can educate foster and sustain a democratic society
