Memorundam Geojune 2014:

Asymmetric Crisis in Europe and Possible Futures Johannes Jäger, Elisabeth Springler, 2015-04-10 The crisis in Europe is often discussed as a crisis of European integration or a crisis of national economies within Europe Both the methodological Europeanism and methodological nationalism miss out the important links between economic and political processes at different spatial scales within Europe and therefore asymmetries and phenomena of uneven development In addition a discussion of possible scenarios which systematically addresses the implications of anti crisis policies is missing This volume seeks to close this gap by systematically integrating the analysis of economic policy or technical solutions to the crisis within a broader framework of political economy It argues that combining critical political economy approaches and post Keynesian perspectives allows for a systematic understanding of the economic and political dimensions of the crisis Although both approaches have the capacity to deal with asymmetries and uneven development the heterogeneity in Europe has been an often largely neglected dimension of analysis However this recent crisis has shown that this is an essential dimension which has to be addressed in order to better understand the dynamics of European development and integration Hence this book aims to deal with asymmetries in Europe and to bridge the gap between the two perspectives This work will initiate an integrative debate that is crucial for a deeper understanding of the current crisis and is an important resource for all students and scholars of IPE European political economy and European politics Assembling the Archipelago: Heritage in Energy Transitions and Climate Action Marilena Mela, 2025-09-09 This book explores the potential of heritage to enact sustainable human environment relationships across geographical differences It does so by travelling to four archipelagoes the Wadden Islands in the Netherlands the Cyclades in Greece Shetland in Scotland and the Aeolian Islands in Italy In the face of planetary socioenvironmental crises the reliance on sustainable development strategies including the energy transition on technocratic top down solutions fail to counterbalance global agendas of extraction and growth and address environmental injustices in peripheral places This book stresses the need to think small arguing that seeds for meaningful change exist in such places and the geographically and historically situated relationships between people and environments Islands interconnected yet autonomous places with unique histories are good places to start In four archipelagoes frictions produced both by climate change and climate mitigation the fragile consensus around a solar park in the Wadden Sea conflicts around wind turbine towers in the Aegean experiments with the tides in Shetland and volcanic episodes in the Aeolian come in dialogue with the learning potential of their environmental and cultural heritage The counterposing of these stories renegotiates established discourses of heritage and sustainability and the associated courses of action in policy and planning This contribution will resonate with academics students policymakers and activists in heritage studies environmental humanities landscape studies science and technology studies and sustainability Readers are invited to participate in the life and troubles of four island landscapes and to think along on emergent archipelagic claims towards sustainable and just futures Mountains: Physical, Human-Environmental, and Sociocultural Dynamics Mark A. Fonstad, 2018-12-07 Mountains have captured the interests and passions of people for thousands of years Today millions of people live within mountain regions and mountain regions are often areas of accelerated environmental change This edited volume highlights new understanding of mountain environments and mountain peoples around the world The understanding of mountain environments and peoples has been a focus of individual researchers for centuries more recently the interest in mountain regions among researchers has been growing rapidly. The articles contained within are from a wide spectrum of researchers from different parts of the world who address physical political theoretical social empirical environmental methodological and economic issues focused on the geography of mountains and their inhabitants The articles in this special issue are organized into three themed sections with very loose boundaries between themes 1 physical dynamics of mountain environments 2 coupled human physical dynamics and 3 sociocultural dynamics in mountain regions This book was first published as a special issue of the Annals of the American Association of Geographers Dislocating the Orient Daniel Foliard, 2017-04-13 While the twentieth century s conflicting visions and exploitation of the Middle East are well documented the origins of the concept of the Middle East itself have been largely ignored With Dislocating the Orient Daniel Foliard tells the story of how the land was brought into being exploring how maps knowledge and blind ignorance all participated in the construction of this imagined region Foliard vividly illustrates how the British first defined the Middle East as a geopolitical and cartographic region in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries through their imperial maps Until then the region had never been clearly distinguished from the East or the Orient In the course of their colonial activities however the British began to conceive of the Middle East as a separate and distinct part of the world with consequences that continue to be felt today As they reimagined boundaries the British produced disputed and finally dramatically transformed the geography of the area both culturally and physically over the course of their colonial era Using a wide variety of primary texts and historical maps to show how the idea of the Middle East came into being Dislocating the Orient will interest historians of the Middle East the British empire cultural geography and cartography Assembling Bus Rapid Transit in the Global South Malve Jacobsen, 2020-12-13 This book explores the mobile ethnography of Dar es Salaam where consultants and politicians have planned and implemented a bus rapid transit BRT system for two decades It analyses the dual processes of assembling BRT in the Tanzanian metropolis and establishing BRT as a policy model of and for the Global South The book elucidates how policy models are constructed and circulated around the globe and depicts the processes by which they are translated between and materialise within specific contexts It presents the case of BRT to demonstrate how technocrats shape these processes through persuasive work aimed at disseminating and stabilising this transport model and how local actors influence its adaptation in Dar es Salaam The book adopts a double mobility approach to show how this ethnography follows travelling consultants circulating policies and moving buses to explore the fluidity of the BRT model Linking key debates in policy mobility studies and Science and Technology Studies enriched with postcolonial perspectives and geographies of transport and infrastructure it offers new insights into the technopolitics of planning and implementing infrastructure systems This book will appeal to academics and students of human geography transport studies science and technology studies and African and development studies interested in the technopolitics of transport planning Garren Mulloy, 2021-12-01 Japan's navy is three times the size of France's and Britain's combined yet most people think it a defenceless nation This book unravels that paradox Guyana: from Slavery to the Present Ramesh Gampat, 2015-04-15 It is common knowledge that slavery and indenture were characterized by long hours of physical labor restriction of movement and other basic human freedoms and severe punishment for violations of draconian labor laws Less well known is the fact that nutrition was very deficient and a range of infectious diseases maimed debilitated and killed on a large scale In trying to narrow the knowledge gap with respect to Guyana Ramesh Gampat shows that extremely poor sanitary conditions hygiene and nutrition hastened infections and created a vicious cycle The British protected its own soldiers officials and colonists by establishing a medical enclave that lasted until Emancipation in 1838 Former slaves were quarantined to neglected and decaying villages and Indians to plantations Concern with health conditions appeared only during periods of epidemics and even then it was essentially for the protection of Europeans Colonial medicine opened the way for stereotyping labeling racialization of disease neutralization of potential leaders in the struggle for justice and crystallization of the view that Europeans were superior to Blacks and Indians Shorter stature and life expectancy are good indications that slaves and indentured immigrants fared considerably less well than Europeans Several infectious diseases sickened and fell Blacks and Indians including malaria and undefined fevers pneumonia and bronchitis diarrhea and enteritis tuberculosis pneumonia and hookworm The conquest of malaria in the early 1950s initiated the epidemiological transition from communicable to chronic diseases and today NCDs account for some three quarters of all deaths in Guyana Malaria has reemerged fueled by a gold boom that consumes huge amount of mercury The potentially adverse public health consequences of the trio have been neglected Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). This volume also includes a research bibliography on international organizations and transnational associations Naval War College Review ,2017 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications, 2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 Current Law Index ,2000 EM ,2005 Research Catalogue American Geographical Society of Journal of Borderlands Studies ,2014 Union Catalog of Serials Currently Received in the Libraries New York, 1962 of the University of Wisconsin--Madison University of Wisconsin--Madison.
