Llanelli Through Time Keith E. Morgan, 2014-11-15 This fascinating selection of photographs traces some of the many ways in which Llanelli has changed and developed over the last century The Edge of Cymru Julie Brominicks, 2023-03-06 In the course of a year Julie Brominicks walked around the edge of Wales having left her job in environmental education at the Centre for Alternative Technology in Machynlleth As an English incomer and a Welsh learner with a long association with the country she was interested in what Wales meant and how she did or didn't fit in to it The result is a fascinating alternative travelogue which merges topography history environmentalism and observation of nature to produce the long view of Wales discovering the roots of the present in the past sometimes the distant past Brominicks observations of the places and people she discovers around Wales are lively and well written although this is her journey in many senses of that word the narrative is at least as interested in who she meets and what she sees especially of ordinary life She brings the everyday to life in thought provoking ways her book a new way of looking at the place where we live and the people with whom we live our lives knowingly and unknowingly Her writing is lyrical studded with engaging and striking coinages and images which take the reader along the journey with her both entertained and informed The Edge of Cymru is a refreshingly new way of looking at place identity memory and belonging especially through an environmental lens It rewards the reader whether they are interested in Wales specifically or the world generally Bursts with beautiful descriptive prose which picks up the minutia of each moment Brominicks skilfully examines broad social environmental political economic and even geological changes without the book feeling dry as accessible as a novel and would make a great holiday read as much as a bedside book Countryfile Magazine Labour, Mobility and Temporary Migration Julie Knight, John Lever, Andrew Thompson, 2017-06-15 Labour Mobility and Temporary Migration delves into sociological research on Polish migrants who migrated to the lesser explored South Wales region after Poland joined the European Union in 2004 At the time of enlargement Polish migrants were characterised as being economically motivated short term migrants who would enter the UK for work purposes save money and return home However over ten years after enlargement this initial characterisation has been challenged with many of the once considered short term Poles remaining in the UK In the case of Wales the long term impact of this migration is only starting to be fully realised particularly in consideration of the different spatial areas urban semi urban and rural explored in this book Such impact is occurring in the post Brexit referendum period a time when the UK's position in the EU is itself complex and changing By Slanderous Tongues Mercedes Lackey, Roberta Gellis, 2007-02-06 By Slanderous Tongues Rugby Behind Barbed Wire Chris Schoeman, 2020-11-15 Drawing on first hand accounts from several players and original research respected rugby writer Chris Schoeman marks the 50th anniversary of this controversial tour remembered as much for politics as for rugby Oxford Dictionary of National Biography 2005-2008 Lawrence Goldman, 2013-03-07 Who made modern Britain This book drawn from the award winning

Oxford Dictionary of National Biography tells the story of our recent past through the lives of those who shaped national life. Following on from the Oxford DNB's first supplement volume, noteworthy people who died between 2001 and 2004, this new volume offers biographies of more than 850 men and women who left their mark on twentieth and twenty-first century Britain and who died in the years 2005 to 2008. Here are the people responsible for major developments in national life from politics, the arts, business, technology, and law to military service, sport, education, science, and medicine. Many are closely connected to specific periods in Britain's recent history. From the 1950s, the young Harold Pinter or the Yorkshire cricketer Fred Trueman, for example. From the Sixties, the footballer George Best, photographer Patrick Lichfield, and the Pink Floyd musician Syd Barrett. It's hard to look back to the 1970s without thinking of Edward Heath and James Callaghan, who led the country for seven years in that turbulent decade, or similarly Freddie Laker, pioneer of budget air travel, and the comedians Ronnie Barker and Dave Allen, who entertained with their sketch shows and sit-coms. A decade later, you probably browsed in Anita Roddick's Body Shop or danced to the music of Factory Records, established by the Manchester entrepreneur Tony Wilson. In the 1990s, you may have hoped that things can only get better with a New Labour government, which included Robin Cook and Mo Mowlam. Many in this volume are remembered for lives dedicated to a profession or cause: Bill Deedes or Conor Cruise O'Brien in journalism; Ned Sherrin in broadcasting; or indeed Ted Heath, whose political career spanned more than 50 years. Others were responsible for discoveries or innovations of lasting legacy and benefit: among them, the epidemiologist Richard Doll, who made the link between smoking and lung cancer; Cicely Saunders, creator of the hospice movement; and Chad Varah, founder of the Samaritans. With John Profumo, who gave his name to a scandal; policeman Malcolm Fewtrell, who investigated the Great Train Robbery; or the Russian dissident Aleksandr Litvinenko, who was killed in London in 2006, we have individuals best known for specific moments in our recent past. Others are synonymous with popular objects and experiences evocative of recent decades: Mastermind with Magnus Magnusson; the PG Tips chimpanzees trained by Molly Badham; John DeLorean's gull-wing car; or the new British Library, designed by Colin St John Wilson. Though as rounded and balanced accounts, Oxford DNB biographies also set these events in the wider context of a person's life story. Authoritative and accessible, the biographies in this volume are written by specialist authors, many of them leading figures in their field. Here you will find Michael Billington on Harold Pinter; Michael Crick on George Best; Richard Davenport-Hines on Anita Roddick; Brenda Hale on Rose Heilbrunn; Roy Hattersley on James Callaghan; Simon Heffer on John Profumo; Douglas Hurd on Edward Heath; Alex Jennings on Paul Scofield; Hermione Lee on Pat Kavanagh; Geoffrey Wheatcroft on Conor Cruise O'Brien; and Peregrine Worsthorne on Bill Deedes. Many in this volume are naturally household names. But a good number are also remembered for lives away from the headlines. What in the 1980s became Thatcherism owed much to behind-the-scenes advice from Ralph Harris and Alfred Sherman; children who learned to read with Ladybird Books must thank their creator Douglas Keen; while without its first producer Verity Lambert, there would have been no Doctor Who. Others are ordinary people capable of remarkable acts Take for instance Arthur Bywater who over two days in 1944 cleared thousands of bombs from a Liverpool munitions factory following an explosion only to do the same months later in an another factory Awarded the George Cross and the George Medal Bywater remains the only non combatant to have received Britain s two highest awards for civilian bravery Open Earth ,1982 Carmarthenshire Local History Magazine ,1985 Haka Winston McCarthy,Bob Howitt,1983 Fields of Praise Dai Smith,Gareth Williams,1980 Rugby football has become identified with modern Wales This book shows how and why this came about how a game devised by and for English public school boys became the passion of an industrial Welsh working class why the game of rugby channelled a burning urge for dramatic communal expression The authors have written a history that combines an account of rugby play and administration with analysis of the vibrant social history of Wales Blurb Archives of Natural History ,1989 Sustainable Water Systems Miklas Scholz,2025-11-18 A practice oriented analysis of water treatment systems using low cost low maintenance technologies and sustainable water resources In Sustainable Water Systems expert water resources researcher Miklas Scholz delivers a practice oriented resource that comprehensively covers the design operation and maintenance of traditional and novel wetland systems used in water resource management The book offers a performance analysis of existing infrastructure in constructed wetlands soil infiltration systems ditches dry ponds and silt traps in both developed and developing countries Sustainable Water Systems addresses economic and environmental challenges including flood retention and its incorporation into sustainable water supply systems Readers will also find A thorough introduction to low cost alternatives to resource intensive water processing plants Comprehensive explorations of effective water technologies that work well in less developed and rural regions without access to reliable water treatment Modelling of wetland systems and how to design them for optimal performance Practical discussions of industrial wastewater treatment and modelling Complete treatments of sustainable flood retention basins including integrated constructed wetlands Perfect for researchers engineers and other professionals working in the field of water resource management Sustainable Water Systems will also benefit anyone interested in water supply engineering and wastewater treatment In Search of Michael Howard Michael Crick,2005 Under Margaret Thatcher Michael Howard introduced the poll tax water privatisation and the notorious Clause 28 and in 1997 it looked as though his career was over Based on extensive interviews and research this book takes a revealing look at the manwho aspires to victory at the next election Parliamentary Debates Great Britain.
