Constructions in Cognitive Contexts Franziska Günther, 2016-11-07 In what ways are language cognition and perception interrelated Do they influence each other This book casts a fresh light on these questions by putting individual speakers cognitive contexts i e their usage preferences and entrenched patterns of linguistic knowledge into the focus of investigation It presents findings from original experimental research on spatial language use which indicate that these individual specific factors indeed play a central role in determining whether or not differences in the current and or habitual linguistic behaviour of speakers of German and English are systematically correlated with differences in non linguistic behaviour visual attention allocation to and memory for spatial referent scenes These findings form the basis of a new speaker focused usage based model of linguistic relativity which defines language perception cognition effects as a phenomenon which primarily occurs within individual speakers rather than between speakers or speech communities
