Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology Nigel South, Avi Brisman, 2020-04-14 The Routledge International Handbook of Green Criminology was the first comprehensive and international anthology dedicated to green criminology. It presented green criminology to an international audience, described the state of the field, offered a description of a range of environmental issues of regional and global importance, and argued for continued criminological attention to environmental crimes and harms, setting an agenda for further study. In the six years since its publication, the field has continued to grow and thrive. This revised and expanded second edition of the Handbook reflects new methodological orientations, new locations of study such as Asia, Canada, and South America, and new responses to environmental harms. While a number of the original chapters have been revised, the second edition offers a range of fresh chapters covering new and emerging areas of study such as conservation criminology, eco feminism, environmental victimology, fracking, migration, and eco rights, and e waste. This handbook continues to define and capture the field of green criminology and is essential reading for students and researchers engaged in green crime and environmental harm. Southern Green Criminology David Rodríguez Goyes, 2019-10-10 Southern Green Criminology focuses on the threat the western world poses to the rest of the globe and how Western imposed ideas of progress are damaging the planet, especially the southern hemisphere. The Invisible Woman Joanne Belknap, 2001 This text covers women and the criminal justice system with a focus on three major areas: 1. female offenders and their treatment by the criminal justice system; 2. female victims of crime; and 3. female employees of the agencies of the criminal justice system. This is the only text to emphasize all three aspects. Zemiology Avi Boukli, Justin Kotzé, 2018-05-08 This book challenges the given dichotomies between crime and harm, and criminology and zemiology. The main aim of the volume is to highlight the inexorable interconnectedness between systemically induced social harm and the corrosive flows of everyday crime, both perpetrated and endured by those victimised by the capitalist system and its hegemonic vicissitudes. Drawing attention not only to various structurally imbedded harms, the chapters also outline the wider consequences of such harms as they extend beyond immediate victims and contribute towards the further perpetuation of criminogenic and zemiogenic conditions. Comprising two parts, the first explores the relationship between crime and harm, and criminology and zemiology, and the second explores the intersections of crime and harm through various lenses, including those trained on probation, global mobility, sexuality and gender, war and gendered violence, fashion, counterfeiting, and the harms of the service economy. An exciting and wide reaching volume written by world renowned scholars, this collection is a must read for students, academics, and policy makers in the fields of law, criminology, sociology, social policy, criminal justice, and social justice. Green Harms and Crimes R. Sollund, 2016-01-12 The book presents discussions of the application of Stan Cohen's theories alongside empirical contributions in the fields of critical and green criminology. Taken together, the authors critically address harms and crimes against the environment as well as against
