Journal Dhirondelle Amelie Nothomb:

The Flesh in the Text Thomas Baldwin, James E. Fowler, Shane Weller, 2007 The impetus behind this collection of essays was a curiosity shared by the editors concerning the relation between the flesh and the text in French and francophone literature This subject is explored here in readings of works by among others Rabelais Diderot Sade Proust Beckett Djebar Nothomb Delvig and Nob court Masculinities in Twentieth- and Twenty-first Century French and Francophone Literature Edith Biegler Vandervoort, 2011-05-25 The study of masculinities and gender identity in contemporary literature is relatively new and with each year of this millennium gains momentum Indeed as the women's movement becomes forceful in developing nations the question of tolerance to gays lesbians bisexuals and transvestites undergoes a similar process At a time when women refuse to be subjected to war crimes when they begin entering the workforce and realize the need to support their families independently and when they refuse to remain in abusive marriages or remain silent in countries where governments ignore their needs men and women are questioning the meaning of gender in their culture and often seek alternatives to established gender roles In some countries this entails organized demonstrations for additional civil rights while in others the expression of sexual freedom remains a question of remaining silent or risking public execution Thanks to the scholarly commitment of its authors this book examines the range of masculine expression on three continents Europe Africa and the Americas In this collection they write about men's past and present challenges male friendships and male immigrants and outcasts Paralleling the independence movement of France's former colonies the goal of this collection is to continue the expression of freedom toward understanding and tolerance of all variances of sexuality This "Self" Which Is Not One Natalie Edwards, Christopher Hogarth, 2010-03-08 The Self Which is Not One Women's Life Writing in French assembles articles on women s life writing from diverse areas of the Francophone world It is comprised of nine chapters that discuss female writers from North Africa Sub Saharan Africa the Caribbean and Europe in addition to French writers The idea of the self is currently attracting widespread interest in academia most notably in the arts and humanities The development of postmodernism supposes a fragmented subject formed from the network of available discourses rather than a stable and coherent self Jacques Derrida for example wrote that there is no longer any such things as a full subject and Julia Kristeva now insists that the individual is a subject in process The growing importance of psychoanalytic theory particular in French studies has also impacted upon this development The basic tenet of psychoanalytic theory is that the individual is formed of a duality the conscious and unconscious parts of the self which prevent the individual from ever fully knowing her himself and which thus insists upon a plural incomplete self Developments in the field of postcolonial studies have also made us aware of different ways of approaching the self in different parts of the world and eroded the idea of a stable conscious and complete self As scholars examine these new ways of approaching the self autobiography has been the subject of renewed interest Several academic books have appeared in recent years that study the ways in which

autobiographers represent the self as incomplete evolving and elusive In particular a number of books have appeared on the subject of women's autobiography and female subjectivity such as works by Sidonie Smith Julia Watson and Nancy Miller and several volumes interrogate postcolonial women s autobiography such as texts by Fran oise Lionnet Gayatri Spivak Carole Boyce Davies and Chandra Mohanty Our volume unites these strands of criticism by examining ways that female autobiographies write the self as a fragmented plural construct across the Francophone world This will be the first book length study of this important development This volume will be of interest primarily to students and scholars working in the areas of life writing French and Francophone studies postcolonial studies and gender studies The volume contributes to multiple areas that are currently garnering substantial interest in academe postcolonial studies Francophone studies gender studies and women's writing By comparing works from across the Francophone world our volume takes a global approach to the genre of autobiography and its inflections by women writers The Self That is Not One in Women's Autobiography in French therefore represents a timely intervention in several interlinking academic fields and will thus garner substantial Journal d'Hirondelle Amélie Nothomb, 2011-06-16 C est une histoire d amour dont les pisodes ont t m lang s par interest Hospitality and Hostility in the Multilingual Global Village Kathleen Thorpe, Anette Horn, Alida Poeti, V, ronique un fou Tadjo, 2014-08-01 This interdisciplinary international and multi lingual collection of essays explores a broad range of issues related to hospitality and hostility in literary and cultural contexts from antiquity to the present Insightful theoretical and historical discussions undergird richly detailed particular studies The central focus unifies the diverse pieces which are original well researched and reasoned and clearly written A solid contribution to scholarship in several fields including linguistics anthropology and Internet culture the volume is also enjoyable to read Its lively and appealing pieces on recent novels and contemporary trends lend a fresh and contemporary feel Prof Pamela S Saur Lamar University Texas Aimer et mourir Eilene Hoft-March, Judith Holland Sarnecki, 2009-01-23 Aimer et Mourir offers a wide ranging selection of essays that collectively address how from the Middle Ages to the present the notions of love and death get inextricably associated with the narratives that are women s lives Some of the essays tackle male writers representations that link women and in particular women's sexuality with death resulting in the figures of the femme fatale the woman in parturition and the desiring vampire A number of essays reiterate that women s hyper sexualized bodies have been used as a social construct and a psychological screen upon which to project a fear of death The challenges to this pat reduction of woman s domain come from the mostly women writers represented here and they span from Marguerite de Navarre to Am lie Nothomb These women writers rework the old formulae giving us instead death defying memories of love love regenerative of language as of bodies love forcing the frontiers of death or love creatively redefined within the parameters of death Nor are these new narratives imagined as belonging to women alone but rather as attesting to a richer more varied and greatly sensitized human experience Journal d'un psy rebelle Claude Lorin, 2009-11-01 Cet ouvrage recueille les LWATI ,2007
