Matric 2013 Afrikaans Short Stories:

Homeschooling: The Primary Years Shirley Erwee, 2015-07-13 An invaluable guide for families embarking on the journey of educating their primary school age children at home One of the biggest challenges for homeschooling parents is to break away from the model of education they received in school and to re educate themselves about Education as the conventional classroom methodology is not the model of pedagogy teaching that works best in the homeschool scenario This book offers tried and tested alternatives that will enrich and facilitate learning rather than hinder the process of educating young minds Having been part of the first generation of South African homeschoolers the author shares her knowledge plus tips and advice she has learnt along the way in order to help others make good choices and avoid common pitfalls and costly mistakes

Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee, 2014-08-28 Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers They need information and answers to their questions And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success In a clearly presented format the book includes advice on legal matters identifying appropriate courses sourcing study material tips on entrepreneurship financing tertiary studies and the testimonies of successful homeschooled graduates Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond

On Literary Attachment in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2021-09-01 This book reflects on the literary in literature Less ideologically construed more affirmative of literary attachment the study adopts a style of intimacy its tough love in a correlation between the creative work and the critical act Instead of configuring literary works to state of the nation issues the usual approach to literature from South Africa the chapters keep alive a space for conversation whether accented inwards to locality or outwards to the Anglophone world the world to which literature in South Africa continues to belong albeit as a problem child A postcolony that is not quite a postcolony South Africa is richly but frustratingly textured between Africa and the West or the South and the North Its literature hovering on the cusp of its locality and its global reach raises peculiar questions of reader reception epistemological and aesthetic frame and archival use Are the Nobel laureates Nadine Gordimer and J M Coetzee local writers or global writers Is the novel or the short story the more appropriate form at the edges of metropolitan cultures Given language race and culture contestation how do we recover Bushman expression for contemporary use How to consider the aesthetic appeal of two contemporaneous works one in English the other in isiXhosa the one indebted to Bloomsbury modernism the other to African custom How does Douglas Livingstone attach the Third World to the First World in both science and poetry What has a born free novelist Kopano Matlwa got to do with the Bard of Avon In a time of theorisation is it permissible for Lewis Nkosi to embody literary criticism in an autobiographical journey How to read the rupturing event the statue of Rhodes must fall through a literary sensibility Alert to the influence of critique the study is equally alert to the limits of critique Reflecting on several writers works and events that do not feature in current publications On Literary Attachment in South Africa releases literature to speak to us today within the contours of its originating energy South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI Commonwealth Universities Yearbook T. Craig, Hugh W. Springer, 1979 Authentic African Leadership Gail Cameron, 2014-07-01 Telling the untold South African stories of courage fortitude and the desire to succeed against all odds Authentic African Leadership is a compilation of true leadership stories written by top leaders in corporate South Africa who Gail Cameron founder of the Image Excellence Group has coached over the last 20 years The stories are compelling as each reflects an authentic African leader's unique indigenous culture, value, norms, beliefs, historical underpinnings and traditions. Each of the contributors to the book relates how they overcame enormous challenges both personal and professional to succeed against all odds. Numerous exercises allow the reader to rate him/herself in key competencies and to identify personal styles and traits.

Sexual Orientation at Work Fiona Colgan, Nick Rumens, 2014-06-13 Sexual Orientation at Work: Contemporary Issues and Perspectives brings together contemporary international research on sexual orientation and draws out its implications for lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and heterosexual employees and managers. It provides new empirical and theoretical insights into sexual orientation employment discrimination and equality work in countries such as South Africa, Turkey, Australia, Austria, Canada, US and the UK. This book is novel in its focus on how sexual orientation intersects with other aspects of difference such as age, class, ethnicity and disability. It adopts new theoretical perspectives, e.g. queer theory, to analyze the rise of new gay-friendly organizations and examines important methodological issues in collecting socio-economic data about sexual minorities. Providing an accessible account of key issues and perspectives on sexual orientation in the workplace, Sexual Orientation at Work caters to a wide range of readers across business, feminist and LGBT/Queer Studies fields.

Dying for Freedom Jacob Dlamini, 2024-07-09 What happens when death becomes the ultimate marker of one's commitment to one's freedom? What happens when the opposite of freedom is not unfreedom but death, not slavery but mortality? How are we to think of the right to life when a political demand for dignity and honor might be more important than life itself? Dying for Freedom explores these questions by drawing on archival evidence from South Africa to show how death and conflicting notions of sacrifice dominated the struggle for political equality in that country. This political investment in death as a marker of commitment to the anti-apartheid struggle encouraged a masculinist style of politics in which the fight for freedom was seen and understood by many activists as a struggle literally for manhood. This investment generated a notion of political sacrifice so absolute that anything less than death was rendered suspect. More importantly, it resulted in a hierarchy of death whereby some deaths were more important than others and where some deaths could be mourned and others not. This highly original account of the necropolitics of the liberation struggle will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the humanities and social sciences and to anyone interested in South Africa.
