Education for Sustainable Development and Disaster Risk Reduction Rajib Shaw, Yukihiro Oikawa, 2014-08-06 Education for Sustainable Development ESD and Disaster Risk Reduction Education DRRE have overlapping areas of concern focusing on strengthening the link to local communities In reality there is significant synergy in ESD and disaster risk reduction DRR Both concepts urge looking at the communities both focus on behavior changes and both call for linking knowledge to action The Decade of Education for Sustainable Development DESD ends in 2014 and the Hyogo Framework for Action HFA ends in 2015 Therefore at this junction it is important to review the progress made over the past 10 years and to suggest future synergy options This book is the first attempt to review these two emerging fields and to provide input to the future direction of education The book has 11 chapters drawing lessons mainly from Japan and discussing their implications for the world The first four chapters provide an overview of the ESD DRR linkage ESD and its evolution DRRE and Climate Change Education These are followed by case studies from ESD practices in Japan in schools universities and communities The primary target groups for this book are students and researchers in the fields of environment disaster risk reduction and climate change studies The book provides them with a good idea of the current research trends in the field and furnishes basic knowledge about these vital topics Another target group comprises practitioners and policy makers who will be able to apply the knowledge collected here to establishing policy and making decisions

The Use of Dispersants in Marine Oil Spill Response National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Environmental Studies and Toxicology, Ocean Studies Board, Committee on the Evaluation of the Use of Chemical Dispersants in Oil Spill Response, 2020-05-24 Whether the result of an oil well blowout vessel collision or grounding leaking pipeline or other incident at sea each marine oil spill will present unique circumstances and challenges The oil type and properties location time of year duration of spill water depth environmental conditions affected biomes potential human community impact and available resources may vary significantly Also each spill may be governed by policy guidelines such as those set forth in the National Response Plan Regional Response Plans or Area Contingency Plans To respond effectively to the specific conditions presented during an oil spill spill responders have used a variety of response options including mechanical recovery of oil using skimmers and booms in situ burning of oil monitored natural attenuation of oil and dispersion of oil by chemical dispersants Because each response method has advantages and disadvantages it is important to understand specific scenarios where a net benefit may be achieved by using a particular tool or combination of tools This report builds on two previous National Research Council reports on dispersant use to provide a current understanding of the state of science and to inform future marine oil spill response operations The response to the 2010 Deepwater Horizon spill included an unprecedented use of dispersants via both surface application and subsea injection The magnitude of the spill stimulated interest and funding for research on oil spill response and dispersant use in particular This study assesses the effects and efficacy of dispersants as an oil spill response tool and evaluates trade offs associated with dispersant use
