Life Science Grade 12014 Nov Dec Scope:

Curating Africa in the Age of Film Festivals L. Dovey, 2015-03-11 Tracing the history of Africa's relationship to film festivals and exploring the festivals' impact on the various types of people who attend festivals, the festival experts, the ordinary festival audiences, and the filmmakers, Dovey reveals what turns something called a festival into a festival experience for these groups.

On the Nature of Ecological Paradox Michael Charles Tobias, Jane Gray Morrison, 2021-05-18 This work is a large, powerfully illustrated interdisciplinary natural sciences volume, the first of its kind to examine the critically important nature of ecological paradox through an abundance of lenses: the biological sciences, taxonomy, archaeology, geopolitical history, comparative ethics, literature, philosophy, the history of science, human geography, population ecology, epistemology, anthropology, demographics, and futurism. The ecological paradox suggests that the human biological and from an insular perspective, successful struggle to exist has come at the price of isolating H. sapiens from life-sustaining ecosystem services and far too much of the biodiversity with which we find ourselves at crisis level odds. It is a paradox dating back thousands of years, implicating millennia of human machinations that have been utterly ruinous to biological baselines. Those metrics are examined from numerous multidisciplinary approaches in this thoroughly original work, which aids readers, particularly natural history students who aspire to grasp the far-reaching dimensions of the Anthropocene as it affects every facet of human experience, past, present, and future, and the rest of planetary sentience. With a Preface by Dr. Gerald Wayne Clough, former Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and President Emeritus of the Georgia Institute of Technology. Foreword by Robert Gillespie, President of the non-profit Population Communication.
