Diverse Excursions in the Southeast: Paleozoic to Present Ann E. Holmes, 2015-03-09 This volume contains field guides to the 2015 GSA Southeastern Section Meeting's field trips. The guides explore geologic history and visit four regional geologic provinces: the Nashville dome, Blue Ridge Valley, and Ridge and Cumberland Plateau. Touch Screen Tablets Touching Children's Lives Joanne Tarasuik, Gabrielle Strouse, Jordy Kaufman, 2018-02-28 Touch screen tablets have greatly expanded the technology accessible to preschoolers, toddlers, and even infants, given that they do not require the fine motor skills required for using traditional computers. Many parents and educators wish to make evidence-based decisions regarding young children's technology use, yet technological advancements continue to occur faster than researchers can keep up with. Accordingly, despite touch screen tablets entering society more than 5 years ago, we are in the infancy of research concerning interactive media and children. The topic has gained traction in the past couple of years. For example, theoretical papers have discussed how interactive media activities differ from physical toys and passive media. Christakis 2014 and how educational apps development should utilize the four pillars of learning. Hirsh, Pasek et al 2015. Yet there has been little experimental research published on young children and touch screen use. Preparing for Future Products of Biotechnology National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Chemical Sciences and Technology, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Board on Life Sciences, Committee on Future Biotechnology Products and Opportunities to Enhance Capabilities of the Biotechnology Regulatory System, 2017-06-28 Between 1973 and 2016, the ways to manipulate DNA to endow new characteristics in an organism that is biotechnology have advanced, enabling the development of products that were not previously possible. What will the likely future products of biotechnology be over the next 5-10 years? FORENSICS IV Harry A. Milman PhD, 2025-11-12 The American criminal justice system prides itself on convicting only those who have been proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, but much of admissible forensic evidence on which juries base their determination of guilt or innocence has not been rigorously tested or peer reviewed. Sometimes it is contaminated, inaccurate, or unreliable, and occasionally forensic experts are mistaken in their analysis, exaggerate their conclusions, or provide misleading testimony. In Forensics IV: Guilty Until Proven Innocent, I discuss how flaws in forensic evidence, including fingerprint, firearm DNA, hair, bite mark, and bloodstain pattern analyses, as well as limitations in eyewitness identification, overstated conclusions by forensic experts, scientific fraud at the FBI and state forensic crime laboratories, and police and prosecutorial misconduct, result in innocent people being found guilty of crimes they did not commit Once wrongfully incarcerated it is almost certain the process of postconviction relief toward exoneration will be long and arduous unlike defendants who are guaranteed a speedy trial Some of the wrongfully convicted people I reviewed include Amanda Knox wrongfully incarcerated in Italy for murdering her housemate based on false DNA analysis Ronald Cotton misidentified and convicted of rape only to be exonerated after nearly eleven years and team up with the victim to lecture about faulty eyewitness identification Brandon Mayfield an Oregon attorney wrongly accused of being an Islamic terrorist involved in the 2004 train bombing in Madrid Spain based on faulty fingerprint identification Kirk Odom wrongfully imprisoned for more than twenty one years as a result of false microscopic hair analysis Keith Harward wrongfully convicted of rape and murder based on overstated bite mark comparison analysis Julie Rea and David Camm found guilty of killing her son and his wife and two children respectively based on inaccurate bloodstain pattern analysis Patrick Pursley wrongfully convicted of murder due to firearm misidentification Kirk Bloodsworth the first death row inmate to be exonerated with DNA evidence and five men wrongfully incarcerated because of false microscopic hair analysis among others

Losing Eden Lucy Jones, 2021-08-03 A fascinating look at why human beings have a powerful mental spiritual and physical need for the natural world and the cutting edge scientific evidence that proves nature is nurture A powerful and beautifully written survey of the latest scientific research into the vast range of benefits to our minds bodies and spirits when we do things outside Anthony Doerr Pulitzer Prize winning author of All the Light We Cannot See Lucy Jones interweaves her deeply personal story of recovery from addiction and depression with that of discovering the natural world and how it aided and enlivened her progress giving her a renewed sense of belonging and purpose Jones writes of the intersection of science wellness and the environment and reveals that in the last decade scientists have begun to formulate theories of why people feel better after a walk in the woods and an experience with the natural world She describes the recent data that supports evidence of biological and neurological responses the lowering of cortisol released in response to stress the boost in cortical attention control that helps us to concentrate and subdues mental fatigue and the increase in activity in the parasympathetic nervous system slowing the heart and allowing the body to rest The connection between mental health and the natural world turns out to be strong and deep which is good news in that it offers those feeling soul sick the possibility that falling in love with the world around them might be remarkably helpful Bill McKibben Beautifully written movingly told and meticulously researched An elegy to the healing power of nature A convincing plea for a wilder richer world Isabella Tree author of Wilding

Emotion and Aging: Recent Evidence from Brain and Behavior Natalie Ebner, Håkan Fischer, 2015-05-05 Emotions play a central role in every human life from the moment we are born until we die They prepare the body for action guide decisions and highlight what should be noticed and remembered Since emotions are central to daily functioning and well being it is important to understand the extent to which aging affects the perception of attention to memory for as well as experience and regulation of emotions An early scientific view of how people's emotions are affected by aging argued that aging led to a deterioration of emotional function This theory represented by for example Carl Jung 1875 1961 claimed that old age is a period of life when people feel an increased emotional sameness and less emotional energy According to this scientific view the aging emotional landscape was bleached barren and flattened Current psychological research however shows that emotion is rather a psychological domain that is relatively unaffected by the aging process or even improves with age in contrast to most cognitive functions For example even though there is evidence that aging is associated with deficits in emotion recognition various emotional functions seem to remain intact or become better with age such as the ability to regulate one's emotions or the extent of experiencing positive emotions However more research is needed to determine brain and behavior related quantitative and qualitative age related changes of different aspects of emotion processing and emotional functioning In the current Frontiers research topic we aim to present exciting new findings related to the effects of healthy aging on both more perceptually driven bottom up as well as more cognitively driven top down aspects of emotions In particular questions such as the following need to be raised and addressed What neural and behavioral processes are underlying age differences in emotion perception and memory for emotional information Are there differences between how older and younger adults experience and regulate their emotions and what drives these differences Is there a gradual reduction or more of a qualitative change of our emotional experiences over the life cycle from the turbulent childhood and youth to the mellower old age And what aspects of age related changes in emotional processing can be explained by age related changes in the brain and which are more affected by other factors such as changes in other body systems in experiential processes or in overall life goals
