Making Connections

A Laboratory Activity for the Living Environment

Introduction:

As they make observations, scientists are always looking for patterns in the natural world. For instance, researchers have observed that pregnant women who smoke cigarettes have a higher incidence of low birthweight babies and that people with high-fat diets and an affinity for playing video games all day and night have a greater risk of being overweight and developing heart disease. If any similar medical discoveries are a result of the patterns that can be observed when studying people and their lifestyles.

Discovering and explaining connections is one of the basic methods by which our knowledge of the world advances. It is what science is all about! Sometimes the connections are not what we expect or would predict, and sometimes we may have a hard time explaining the connections. Nevertheless, that is how science makes progress.

In this part of the laboratory activity, you will make a few observations about yourself and your classmates or your family members; then you will look for patterns or connections.

Safety:

Safety is important during any laboratory activity. Although no dangerous chemicals or heat sources are used in this investigation, be sure you are careful and behave responsibly.

Another concern is health. If you have health reasons for not performing the exercises called for in this activity, tell your teacher so that other arrangements can be made for you to successfully complete the investigation. If you are excused from gym class for medical reasons, for example, or if you have asthma, tell your teacher about it before beginning the laboratory activity.

Part A. Looking for Patterns

At. What Is Your Pulse Rate?

Your pulse is a result of the expansion of blood vessels that occurs each time your heart beats to send a surge of blood through your body. You can feel certain blood vessels "pulse" as this happens. So really it is just how many times your heart beats in one minute. Typically the better shape you are in, the lower your resting heart rate will be. For example, it is not uncommon for someone like a triathlete or marathon runner to have a resting heart rate in the 40s when they wake up in the morning.
