Inclusion as Social Justice, 2020-07-13 Inclusion as Social Justice Theory and Practice in African Higher Education discusses the extent to which education enables equitable social access for diverse student populations in the context of historical sidelining of indigenous knowledge systems and epistemic injustice of colonial epistemologies in Africa. The goal is to theoretically unpack the social differentials and micro inequities that practically disempower diverse students in African higher education. To this end, the book features aspects of diversity such as gender, rurality, refugee status, and disability in general, with hearing and visual impairment as prime illustrations. It is argued that despite the ethically defensible and socially just policy and structural interventions for transforming higher education meant to redress the legacy of colonial injustices, urban universities present epistemological equity challenges for students from rural communities. Similarly, the opaque fate of students displaced from their home countries and currently studying in universities in host countries is analyzed. The book illustrates the access case for gender and disability in higher education using empirical studies and examples from Tanzania, Kenya, Ethiopia, Zimbabwe, and South Africa. Challenges facing students in higher education in these countries and the strategies the students devise to succeed in the institutions are analyzed. Quality in Higher

Education as a Tool for Human Development Patience Mukwambo, 2019-04-11 Whilst many studies have explored how quality in higher education is conceptualised in the Global North, less attention has been paid to quality in higher education in Africa and the Global South. This book uses the human development and capabilities approach to demonstrate how quality in teaching and learning contributes to a range of benefits such as improved wellbeing, economic outcomes, political engagement, and human capital formation amongst graduates. The book interrogates the various dimensions of quality as well as factors that impact on the realisation of quality in universities and society at large. Recognising that measures of quality are context and stakeholder specific, the book uses the Zimbabwean context as a Global South case study. It evaluates how quality is conceptualised and operationalised in Zimbabwean universities and how that impacts on teaching and learning policy and practice. The book also demonstrates the need for economic resources for individuals and universities and emphasises the importance of a social and educational environment conducive to critical learning and post-university opportunities. This book will be of interest to researchers across Education, African and Development Studies, as well as to policymakers and practitioners with an interest in quality assurance and the promotion of teaching and learning in universities in the Global South. Custard, Culverts and Cake Cara Courage, Nicola Headlam, 2017-10-05 Leading scholars from the Academic Archers network combine a love of The Archers with their specialist subjects in Custard, Culverts and Cake, a sometimes serious but most often wry look at the people of Ambridge. Scholars take on subjects such as food, geography, social media, faith, and naturally the Helen and Rob storyline. The College Handbook for Transfer Students, 1997 College Entrance Examination Board, 1996-08 The Protection of Foreign Investments in Mongolia Bajar

Scharaw,2017-11-07 This book analyses the adequacy of Mongolia's legal system for foreign investment protection by conducting a multi level assessment of international investment treaties domestic legislation of the host State and investor State contracts from an international comparative perspective The investigation distinguishes between three legal dimensions each of which offers both substantive legal guarantees for the protection of investments in the host State and provisions for the settlement of investment disputes by arbitration In the first dimension of Public International Law PIL Mongolia is bound by international investment treaties which offer investors an international law setting In the second dimension a special domestic investment law defines the domestic framework for the establishment promotion and protection of investments but also for the conclusion of investor State contracts These contracts in turn open a third legal dimension which represents a cross section through the PIL and domestic law dimensions of investment protection Following the development of a multi level system with legal dimensions that are not isolated but rather interrelated and mutually reinforcing the book examines whether Mongolia's international investment treaties and domestic investment law reflect globally shared international and domestic standards of treatment and protection of foreign investments Lastly the author inquires whether the domestic laws applicable to investor State contracts in Mongolia allow investors and the Mongolian Government to agree on protective terms according to the not uncontroversial standards of international contract practice

Forward with Classics Arlene Holmes-Henderson,Steven Hunt,Mai Musié,2018-08-09 Despite their removal from England's National Curriculum in 1988 and claims of elitism Latin and Greek are increasingly re entering the mainstream educational arena Since 2012 there have been more students in state maintained schools in England studying classical subjects than in independent schools and the number of schools offering Classics continues to rise in the state maintained sector The teaching and learning of Latin and Greek is not however confined to the classroom community based learning for adults and children is facilitated in newly established regional Classics hubs in evenings and at weekends in universities as part of outreach and even in parks and in prisons This book investigates the motivations of teachers and learners behind the rise of Classics in the classroom and in communities and explores ways in which knowledge of classical languages is considered valuable for diverse learners in the 21st century The role of classical languages within the English educational policy landscape is examined as new possibilities exist for introducing Latin and Greek into school curricula The state of Classics education internationally is also investigated with case studies presenting the status quo in policy and practice from Australasia North America the rest of Europe and worldwide The priorities for the future of Classics education in these diverse locations are compared and contrasted by the editors who conjecture what strategies are conducive to success
