Pierre Loti, 1897 French Orientalist Literature in Algeria, 1845-1882 Sage Goellner, 2018-03-06 This book applies the growing theoretical field of hauntology to a body of literature which has previously been examined through the lenses of Orientalism and exoticism. Through a chronological study and close readings of the writings of Théophile Gautier, Eugène Fromentin, Gustave Flaubert, and Pierre Loti, the project identifies haunting echoes within the texts which demonstrate an ambivalence of attitudes towards colonialism and which undermine any claim towards a monolithic imperialist French ideology. Whereas hauntological theory has been used to illuminate literature from the Francophone post-colonial period, it has not yet been applied to texts produced during the French colonial period. The originality of this project thus lies in the application of Derridean hauntological theory to works from an earlier period, each of which in one way or another addresses the theme of colonial violence. By revisiting four classic works of colonial Orientalism with haunting as a principal theme, this analysis provides a critical witnessing of France's violent colonization of Algeria that demonstrates France's latent anxieties about the colonial project at the time. James, 2013-11-17 Regarded as one of the key figures of nineteenth-century realism, Henry James has become famous for his novels and tales that explore the clash between the Old World Europeans and New World Americans. Using an innovative method of writing from a character's point of view within a tale, James's works explore issues related to consciousness and perception, producing his own inimitable impressionist style. Henry James: Literary Criticism Vol. 2 (LOA #23) Henry James, 1842-1916 Henry James renowned as one of the world s great novelists was also one of the most illuminating audacious and masterly critics of modern times This Library of America volume is one of two volumes of the most extensive collection of his critical writings ever assembled with many pieces never before available in book form It includes reviews of a great number of European writers especially French writers along with more general essays and the Prefaces Henry James wrote for the New York Edition of his works published between 1907 and 1909 More than one hundred reviews and essays are gathered by author so that readers can trace the development of James's complex meditative and highly volatile attitudes toward a wide spectrum of literature. James reviews the formidable Honoré de Balzac with his huge all-compassing all-desiring all-devouring love of reality; Gustave Flaubert, a pearl diver, breathless in the thick element while he groped for the priceless word; and Ivan Turgenev, the Russian visitor in Paris with whom James felt great personal affinity even though Turgenev lacked the immense charm of absorbed inventiveness. James delivers his critical judgments with great elegance and point especially when he discusses the performance of other critics like Hippolyte Taine and Augustin Sainte-Beuve, and of course he can be wonderfully acerbic. An early moralistic essay on Baudelaire finds Poe vastly the greater charlatan of the two and the greater genius. James brings his critical zest, exhilaration and independence of judgment to bear on writers as diverse as Alphonse Daudet, George Sand, Victor Hugo, Guy de Maupassant, Théophile Gautier, J. W. von Goethe and Gabriele D'Annunzio. Readers will find in the complete collection of the Prefaces one of literature's most revealing artistic autobiographies, a wholly absorbing account of how writing gets written and a vision of the possibilities for fiction which critics and novelists of later times will find immensely instructive and liberating.
