and foster multidisciplinary collaborations Laser Scanning for the Environmental Sciences George Heritage, Andy Large, 2009-05-06 3D surface representation has long been a source of information describing surface character and facilitating an understanding of system dynamics from micro scale e.g. sand transport to macro scale e.g. drainage channel network evolution. Data collection has been achieved through field mapping techniques and the use of remotely sensed data. Advances in this latter field have been considerable in recent years with new rapid acquisition methods being developed centered around laser based technology. The advent of airborne and field based laser scanning instruments has allowed researchers to collect high density accurate data sets and these are revealing a wealth of new information and generating important new ideas concerning terrain characterisation and landform dynamics. The proposed book collates a series of invited peer reviewed papers presented at the a conference on geoinformatics and LIDAR to be held at the National Centre for Geocomputation based in the National University of Ireland Maynooth. Current constraints in field survey and DEM construction are reviewed together with technical and applied issues around the new technology. The utility of the data in process modelling is also covered. The book will be of great value to researchers in the field of geomorphology, geostatistics, remote sensing and GIS and will prove extremely useful to students and practitioners concerned with terrain analysis. The proposed work will Highlight major technological breakthrough in 3D data collection. Feature examples of application across a wide range of environmental areas. Critically evaluate the role of laser based techniques in the environment. Detail theory and application of laser techniques in the natural environment Successful Field-to-office Automation Alan W. Roth, 1990 Landslide Science and Practice Claudio Margottini, Paolo Canuti, Kyoji Sassa, 2013-08-04 This book contains peer reviewed papers from the Second World Landslide Forum organised by the International Consortium on Landslides ICL that took place in September 2011. The entire material from the conference has been split into seven volumes this one is the second. 1 Landslide Inventory and Susceptibility and Hazard Zoning 2 Early Warning Instrumentation and Monitoring 3 Spatial Analysis and Modelling 4 Global Environmental Change 5 Complex Environment 6 Risk Assessment Management and Mitigation 7 Social and Economic Impact and Policies Surveying Barry F. Kavanagh, 2003 This practical text presents a clear discussion of surveying principles and applications for mapping and engineering surveys. It has been extensively revised from the fifth edition and is now divided into three parts. Part 1 covers the basics of surveying principles. Part 2 introduces students to the latest in imaging techniques and Part 3 covers practical approaches for applications in the engineering, hydrographic and land surveying fields. The strength of this text is its real world application reflecting the author's many years of academic field experience. Some of the key features include Numerous illustrations and examples to clarify and reinforce chapter topics. Updated isogonic charts. A new chapter on Geographic Information Systems. On line and interactive techniques for computing grid geographic coordinates illustrated using NGS Tools. Introduction to the latest imaging techniques using multi spectral scanning and LIDAR mapping. Expanded appendices with new glossary entries and a
