Isat Interpretive Guide 2015:

State-to-state Arbitration based on International Investment Agreements Angshuman Hazarika, 2020-09-14 This book discusses the use of the compromissory clause in international investment agreements IIAs for interstate dispute resolution. It puts forward the possibility of using state to state arbitration based on the compromissory clause in IIAs as an alternative means of resolving investment disputes in light of the global debate on the shortcomings of investor state arbitration. The book's main conclusion is that state to state arbitration may be used as an alternative to currently popular investor state arbitration by resolving procedural hurdles which impede its acceptance. It becomes more important with the removal of investor state arbitration as an option in certain recent IIAs which then elevates state to state arbitration as the sole option for binding third party dispute resolution in the treaty. Even then it is unlikely to replace investor state arbitration completely due to its inherent shortcomings such as the risk of re politicising disputes and a lack of direct control over the process for the affected investors. Nevertheless the availability of an alternative forum will benefit all parties involved as they will no longer be wholly dependent on investor state arbitration which can be affected by events such as denunciation from the ICSID Convention or the refusal of a host state to enforce an arbitration award. Fighting the White Knight Jocelyn Turner, 2023-01-12 In her final year of teaching Jocelyn Turner spent over one fifth of each week administering mandatory tests and quizzes. She spent the remaining time preparing students to take those specific exams regardless of the background knowledge and preparedness of individual students. While she was testing she could not teach. Teachers were expected to present the same Common Core based grade specific material to all their students at the same time whether Jake was reading at a first grade level or Taylor at a ninth grade level. It was a rare and lucky child who fit the profile of the year's onslaught of tests. Since No Child Left Behind US schools have been burying students in tests and then drawing often misguided conclusions when sometimes the only conclusion anyone ought to draw is that student X obviously spent hours staring at a set of questions he or she did not understand and maybe could not even read. We have been told that US education is in crisis. Ms Turner agrees. In Fighting the White Knight she argues that government mandates created and are now perpetuating this crisis depriving children of remedial learning instruction time and personal attention. Fighting the White Knight also looks at the 1.6 trillion student debt crisis a consequence of today's single minded college bound pipeline vocabulary deficits left to fester due to narrowly targeted curricula and the sneaky gutting of elective vocational technical and gifted education. Ms Turner concludes by advocating for changes she believes can rescue American education guiding children back to the safe inspirational learning experiences of a more student focused time. Taliesin West, 1993
