Contemporary Famine Analysis Olivier Rubin,2015-12-11 This Brief provides some answers as to why famines continue to torment humankind here in the 21st century despite all our progress in food production logistics information dissemination and relief work Contemporary famines are inherently political and so the interesting question is not how famines can be prevented but why they are allowed to develop in the first place only by understanding the latter is there hope to eradicate major famines The Brief assesses the various analytical approaches to the understanding of famine from the classical approaches inspired by

Thomas Malthus to the newer economic approaches based on Amartya Sen While all approaches contribute with important insights on famine dynamics they also struggle to capture the political dimension of contemporary famines The Brief develops a political approach capable of addressing this important but messy political dimension of contemporary famines The approach builds on principles of humanitarian accountability the moral responsibility to alleviate suffering from famine as well as political accountability the interests and power relations involved in famine outcomes Africa regional overview of food security and nutrition 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, African Union Commission, 2021-06-29 Africa is not on track to meeting the Sustainable Development Goal SDG 2 targets to end hunger and ensure access by all people to safe nutritious and sufficient food all year round and to end all forms of malnutrition The number of hungry people on the continent has risen by 47.9 million since 2014 and now stands at 250.3 million or nearly one fifth of the population The 2017 2018 and 2019 editions of this report explain that this gradual deterioration of food security was due to conflict weather extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns often overlapping A continued worsening of food security is expected also for 2020 as a result of the COVID 19 pandemic In addition to hunger across all countries in Africa millions of people suffer from widespread micronutrient deficiencies and overweight and obesity are emerging as significant health concerns in many countries This report shows that the food system in Africa does not provide food at a cost that makes nutritious food affordable to a majority of the population and this is reflected in the high disease burden associated with maternal and child malnutrition high body mass micronutrient deficiencies and dietary risk factors The report also shows that current food consumption patterns impose high health and environmental costs which are not reflected in food prices The findings presented in this report highlight the importance of prioritizing the transformation of food systems to ensure access to affordable and healthy diets for all produced in a sustainable manner
