Life Science Practical For Grade 1:

Primary Science Education in East Asia Yew-Jin Lee, Jason Tan, 2018-09-26 This edited volume is a state of the art comparison of primary science education across six East Asian regions namely the People's Republic of China Republic of Korea Republic of China Hong Kong SAR Japan and Singapore While news of educational policies classroom teaching assessment and other educational innovations here often surface in the international media this book brings together for the first time relevant information regarding educational systems and strategies in primary science in East Asia Above all it is a readable yet comprehensive survey readers would have an accurate sense of what has been accomplished what has not worked so well and what remains to be done Invited experts in comparative education research and or science education also provide commentary by discussing common themes across the six regions These types of critical synoptic reviews add much value by enabling readers to understand broad commonalities and help synthesize what must surely be a bewildering amount of very interesting albeit confusing body of facts issues and policies Education in East Asia holds many lessons both positive and negative to offer to the rest of the world to which this volume is a timely contribution to the literature Pursuit of Science John H. Inquiry into the Singapore Science Classroom Aik-Ling Tan, Chew-Leng Poon, Shirley S.L. Lim, 2014-05-19 This book offers an insight into the research and practices of science teaching and learning in the Singapore classroom with particular attention paid to how they map on to science as inquiry It provides a spectrum of Singapore's science educational practices through all levels of its education system detailing both successes and shortcomings. The book features a collection of research and discourse by science educators in Singapore organized around four themes that are essential components of approaching science as inquiry teachers ideas and their practices opportunities and constraints from a systemic level students competencies and readiness to learn through inquiry and the need for greater awareness of the role of informal learning avenues in science education. In addition the discourse within each theme is enriched by commentary from a leading international academic which helps to consolidate ideas as well as position the issues within a wider theoretical and international context Overall the papers set out important contexts for readers to understand the current state of science education in Singapore They also highlight strengths and gaps in practices of science as inquiry as well as provide suggestions about how the system can be improved. These research findings are therefore helpful as they provide honest and evidence based feedback as well as tangible and doable ideas that policy makers teachers students and school administrators
