Empowering Teachers for Equitable and Sustainable Education Maria Teresa Tatto, 2024-04-16 This groundbreaking book uses a comprehensive study of a novel Master of Education program to showcase how teachers can be engaged in authoritative equity based research using comparative education theory inquiry based pedagogy and the UNESCO SDGs as powerful frameworks By developing agency to advance culturally sustaining and humanizing practices it demonstrates how teachers can promote equity in their classrooms and communities The central premise of the program is that teachers must become comparative global and local action researchers to have agency in their practice and to become effective advocates for the cultural and learning needs of their students especially those in disadvantaged contexts or learning at the bottom of the pyramid By learning comparative framing and social science methods reviewing the literature to select verifiable educational research and developing and implementing a plan for action research this book offers new ideas for how teachers can effectively respond to recent UNESCO calls to reimagine and create promising futures locally By providing formative and summative evidence of culturally and socially transformative learning and showcasing how teacher educators can engage teachers in authoritative justice inquiry based research this book will appeal to scholars faculty and researchers of comparative education and teacher education and development Science Education: A Global Perspective Ben Akpan, 2016-08-03 Science Education A Global Perspective is global both in content and authorship Its 17 chapters by an assemblage of seasoned and knowledgeable science educators from many parts of the world seek to bring to the fore current developments in science education and their implications The book thus covers a wide range of topics in science education from various national and international perspectives These include the nature of science science and religion evolution curriculum and pedagogy context based teaching and learning science and national development socially responsible science education equitable access for women and girls in science and technology education and the benefits of science education research It ends on an optimistic note by looking at science education in 50 years time with a recommendation among others for stakeholders to take the responsibility of preparing children towards a blossoming science education sector in an anticipated future world This book is suitable for use by discerning researchers teachers undergraduate and postgraduate students in science education and policy makers at all levels of education Other educationalists and personnel in science and technology vocations will also find it interesting and useful as the reader motivated approach has guided the presentation of ideas Science Education A Global Perspective is a rich compendium of the components of science education in context practice and delivery Dr Bulent Cavas Professor of Science Education Dokuz Eylul University Buca Izmir Turkey President Elect International Council of Associations for Science Education ICASE This book will be of immense relevance for current and future global strides in training and research in science education Surinder K Ghai Chairman Sterling Publishers Pvt Ltd New Delhi India This book provides a refreshing insight into the current status and future direction of science education It will be very useful to researchers those pursuing undergraduate and post graduate courses in science education and all other personnel involved in the policy and practice of science education Dr Bennoit Sossou Director Country Representative UNESCO Regional Office in Abuja Nigeria Handbook of Research on Science Education, Volume II Norman G.

Lederman, Sandra K. Abell, 2014-07-11 Building on the foundation set in Volume I a landmark synthesis of research in the field Volume II is a comprehensive state of the art new volume highlighting new and emerging research perspectives The contributors all experts in their research areas represent the international and gender diversity in the science education research community The volume is organized around six themes theory and methods of science education research science learning culture gender and society and science learning science teaching curriculum and assessment in science science teacher education Each chapter presents an integrative review of the research on the topic it addresses pulling together the existing research working to understand the historical trends and patterns in that body of scholarship describing how the issue is conceptualized within the literature how methods and theories have shaped the outcomes of the research and where the strengths weaknesses and gaps are in the literature Providing guidance to science education faculty and graduate students and leading to new insights and directions for future research the Handbook of Research on Science Education Volume II is an essential resource for the entire science education community Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

Journal of the National Cancer Institute , 2014 Pedagogies of Biomedical Science Donna Johnson, 2024-05-31 This book confronts the continually evolving nature of biomedical science education by providing a robust account of learning pedagogies and best practice for scholars and researchers in the field Rather than considering subdisciplines of biomedical science education separately the volume takes a holistic approach and considers the complexities of teaching biomedical science as a whole providing a nuanced overview of how a particular practice fits in such a course overall as well as providing support for development within the reader's own subdiscipline. Ultimately this holistic approach allows for expansive discussion of relevant pedagogical approaches that will directly inform innovations in the contemporary teaching of biomedical science education. Novel in approach and underpinned by the latest in research innovations, this book will appeal to scholars, researchers, and postgraduate students in the fields of medical education, higher education, and curriculum studies. Policy makers involved with health education and promotion, as well as educational research, will also benefit from the volume.

A Cross-Cultural Consideration of Teacher Leaders' Narratives of Power, Agency and School Culture Eleanor J. Blair, Carmel Rooft, Susan Timmins, 2019-12-23. A 2021 SPE Outstanding Book Award Winner. Studies of teacher leadership have proliferated over the past fifty years. Earlier work tended to focus exclusively on the link between teacher leadership and school improvement. Now, however, cross-cultural research on the relationship between teacher leadership and power, agency, and school culture has the potential to contribute to a deeper understanding of the teaching profession in diverse geographical and social contexts. A Cross-Cultural Consideration of Teacher Leaders' Narratives of Power, Agency and School Culture presents groundbreaking work that expands discussions of teachers' work to highlight the struggles of a profession in three different countries: England, Jamaica, and the United States. This research provides examples of teacher leaders' narratives about power, agency, and school culture, presenting the voices of teacher leaders across diverse contexts. It identifies the lessons that transcend culture and speaks to the importance of understanding how teachers work and teacher leadership functions within complex school cultures. This work has profound implications for teaching, learning, and leading in a 21st-century global economy. Perfect for courses such as Teacher Leadership, Educational Leadership and Management, Teaching and Teaching Methods, Action Research, Applied Research.

Youth and the Law, 2012. Developing Person Through Childhood and Adolescence Kathleen Stassen Berger, 2015-04-15. Exceptional in its currency, global in its cultural reach, Kathleen Berger's portrait of the scientific investigation of childhood and adolescent development helps bring an evolving field into the evolving classroom. Guided by Berger's clear, inviting authorial voice and page after page of fascinating examples from cultures around the world, students see how classic and current research and the lives of real people shape the field's core theories and concepts. In addition to Kathleen Berger's exhaustive updating of the research, this edition is notable for its thorough integration of assessment throughout: learning objectives, assessments after each section, expanded end-of-chapter quizzes, all aligned with national standards.
