Now Lisa M. P. Munoz, 2023-10-31 Silver Medal in the Social Change and Social Justice Category 2024 Nautilus Book Awards Winner 2024 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Women working in the sciences face obstacles at virtually every step along their career paths From subtle slights to blatant biases deep systemic problems block women from advancing or push them out of science and technology entirely Women in Science Now examines solutions to this persistent gender gap offering new perspectives on how to make science more equitable and inclusive for all This book shares stories and insights of women from a range of backgrounds working in various disciplines illustrating the journeys that brought them to the sciences the challenges they faced along the way and the important contributions they have made to their fields Lisa M P Munoz combines these narratives with a wealth of data to illuminate the size and scope of the challenges women scientists face while highlighting research based solutions to help overcome these obstacles She presents groundbreaking studies in social psychology and organizational behavior that are informing novel approaches for combating historic and ongoing inequities Through a combined focus on personal experiences and social science research this timely book provides both a path toward greater gender equity and an inspiring vision of science and scientists Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
