

3 Subject Content

3.1 - AS Unit 1 ENGB1 Categorising Texts

Unit content

The aim of this unit is to introduce candidates to methods of exploring and understanding spoken and written language in use. Candidates will be examined on their understanding of the way purposes, audiences and contexts impact upon language production and reception.

Candidates will be required to use linguistic methods to analyse and investigate a variety of texts taken from everyday sources. The following areas of language should form the basis for their study of these methods:

- Lexis
the vocabulary system; meaning at word and phrase level
- Grammar
the structural relationships within and between sentences and utterances
- Phonetics/ Phonology
the sounds of English, how they are produced and how they are described, including aspects of prosody
- Pragmatics
the ways in which social conventions and implied meanings are encoded in spoken and written language
- Discourse
 - (i) longer stretches of text, looking particularly at aspects of cohesion
 - (ii) the way texts create identities for particular individuals, groups or institutions e.g. the discourse of law, politics, the media
- Graphology
language as a semiotic system, creating meaning through textual design, signs and images.
In addition candidates should study the following related concepts
- register
situational variation and register; how language varies in relation to audiences, purposes and contexts

- mode
how language may vary as a consequence of the channel of communication (speech, writing and mixed modes)
- Idiolect
the language style acquired by individuals as a result of their personal characteristics, systems of belief and social experience
- Dialect
the variations in language produced as a result of local community and regional diversity
- sociolect
language variations produced by the effects of education, socio-economic class, systems of belief, occupation and membership of social groups

Section A – Text Variation

This section uses a generic question designed to test candidates' ability to explore the ways in which varieties of data can be grouped using the knowledge they have gained during their studies. The following list of possible 'groupings' should form the basis of their preparation for this task.

- purpose
- audience
- genre
- formality
- speech
- writing
- multimodality
- representation
- linguistic areas (e.g. lexis, grammar, phonetics / phonology etc)

This list is not intended to be exhaustive, and other interesting groupings may be pursued in the light of the data presented to the candidates in the examination. However, groupings tied solely by social contexts (e.g. power, gender and technology) should be avoided, as this is the explicit focus of Section B.

Lean Logic David Fleming, 2016 Lean Logic is David Fleming's masterpiece, the product of more than thirty years work and a testament to the creative brilliance of one of Britain's most important intellectuals. A dictionary unlike any other it leads readers through Fleming's stimulating exploration of fields as diverse as culture, history, science, art, logic, ethics, myth, economics and anthropology, being made up of four hundred and four engaging essay entries covering topics such as Boredom, Community, Debt, Growth, Harmless Lunatics, Land, Lean, Thinking, Nanotechnology, Play, Religion, Spirit, Trust and Utopia. The threads running through every entry are Fleming's deft and original analysis of how our present market-based economy is destroying the very foundations, ecological, economic and cultural, on which it depends and his core focus: a compelling, grounded vision for a cohesive society that might weather the consequences. A society that provides a satisfying, culturally rich context for lives well lived in an economy not reliant on the impossible promise of eternal economic growth. A society worth living in. Worth fighting for. Worth contributing to. The beauty of the dictionary format is that it allows Fleming to draw connections without detracting from his in-depth exploration of each topic. Each entry carries intriguing links to other entries, inviting the enchanted reader to break free of the imposed order of a conventional book, starting where she will and following the links in the order of her choosing. In combination with Fleming's refreshing writing style and good-natured humor, it also creates a book perfectly suited to dipping in and out. The decades Fleming spent honing his life's work are evident in the lightness and mastery with which Lean Logic draws on an incredible wealth of cultural and historical learning, from Whitman to Whitefield, Dickens to Daly, Kropotkin to Kafka, Keats to Kuhn, Oakeshott to Ostrom, Jung to Jensen, Machiavelli to Mumford, Mauss to Mandelbrot, Leopold to Lakatos, Polanyi to Putnam, Nietzsche to Nass, Keynes to Kumar, Scruton to Shiva, Thoreau to Toynbee, Rabelais to Rogers, Shakespeare to Schumacher, Locke to Lovelock, Homer to Homer, Dixon in demonstrating that many of the principles it commends have a track record of success long pre-dating our current society. Fleming acknowledges with honesty the challenges ahead but rather than inducing despair, Lean Logic is rare in its ability to inspire optimism in the creativity and intelligence of humans to nurse our ecology back to health, to rediscover the importance of place and play of reciprocity and resilience and of community and culture. Recognizing that Lean Logic's sheer size and unusual structure could be daunting, Fleming's long-time collaborator Shaun Chamberlin has also selected and edited one of the potential pathways through the dictionary to create a second stand-alone volume, Surviving the Future: Culture, Carnival and Capital in the Aftermath of the Market Economy. The content, rare insights and uniquely enjoyable writing style remain Fleming's but presented at a more accessible paperback length and in conventional read-it-front-to-back format.
