

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem. This is done by the investigator who is responsible for the investigation. The investigator will identify the problem and then will determine the scope of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the objectives of the investigation and will then determine the methods of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the results of the investigation and will then determine the conclusions of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the recommendations of the investigation and will then determine the actions of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the follow-up of the investigation and will then determine the final report of the investigation.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem. This involves identifying the symptoms of the problem and determining the scope of the problem. Once the problem has been defined, the next step is to identify the causes of the problem. This involves identifying the factors that are contributing to the problem and determining the underlying causes of the problem. Once the causes of the problem have been identified, the next step is to develop a plan of action. This involves identifying the steps that need to be taken to solve the problem and determining the resources that will be needed to implement the plan. Once a plan of action has been developed, the next step is to implement the plan. This involves carrying out the steps that have been identified in the plan and monitoring the progress of the implementation. Finally, the last step in the process is to evaluate the results of the implementation. This involves determining whether the problem has been solved and whether the resources have been used effectively.
