How to Land Ann Cooper Albright, 2018-11-16 How to Land offers a new look at embodiment that treats gravity as the organizing force for thinking and moving through our twenty first century world

Audible Loss Andrea Zarafshon Moore, 2025-04-01 An innovative and much needed critical work on music and memorialization in relation to AIDS 9 11 and anti Black violence in America Music has long served as a powerful medium for communal mourning and remembrance in times of crisis Audible Loss examines musical responses to three major crises in US society at the turn of the twenty first century the AIDS epidemic the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 and the ongoing conditions of anti Black violence Analyzing a range of works written to commemorate these losses Andrea Zarafshon Moore explores how contemporary classical music aka new music frames and narrates these crises gives voice to grief imagines other possibilities and makes loss audible These crises are read alongside one another to reveal the ways they are mutually imbricated while also recognizing the sheer commemorative dominance of 9 11 in this century Attending to broader debates and discourses through which commemoration is always filtered and the ways interpretive consensus has been sought and articulated in both musical and other memorial forms Moore probes the conventional claims of commemoration particularly those for the necessity of remembrance to healing and the prevention of future crises Audible Loss concludes by reflecting on the limits of existing commemorative forms and the possibility even necessity of new ones Taking the COVID 19 pandemic as a case study it proposes that while memorials of all kinds may provide outlets for collective remembrance and even mourning their power to forge a sense of collectivity is diminished as public discourse grows more fragmented Deeply informed yet highly approachable Audible Loss is a major contribution to the fields of music and memory studies and essential reading for anyone interested in memory culture in the United States today

Learning How to Fall T Nikki Cesare Schotzko, 2014-12-17 Beginning with Richard Drew s controversial photograph of a man falling from the North Tower of the World Trade Center on September 11 Learning How to Fall investigates the changing relationship between world events and their subsequent documentation asking Does the mediatization of the event overwhelm the fact of the event itself How does the mode by which information is disseminated alter the way in which we perceive such information How does this impact upon our memory of an event T Nikki Cesare Schotzko posits contemporary art and performance as not only a stylized re envisioning of daily life but inversely as a viable means by which one might experience and process real world political and social events This approach combines two concurrent and contradictory trends in aesthetics narrative and dramaturgy the dramatization of real world events so as to broaden the commercial appeal of those events in both mainstream and alternative media and the establishment of a more holistic relationship between politically and aesthetically motivated modes of disseminating and processing information By presenting engaging and diverse case studies from both the art world and popular culture including Aliza Shvarts s censored senior thesis at Yale University Kerry Skarbakka s provocative photographs of falling
