

Relationships, Sex and Health Education - Right to Withdraw Editable Letter for Parents and Carers

This letter is editable so that you can tailor it to your school and parents and carers. The text in bold needs completing before the letter is sent out.

Dear Parents and Carers,

As part of our PSHE provision to pupils, we deliver a comprehensive Relationships and Health Education curriculum. We ensure that statutory objectives are adequately covered so that all children learn about different relationships, different families, physical/mental health and wellbeing and staying safe. Children will also learn about puberty and their changing bodies. At our school, this learning takes place in years...

Parents and carers do not have the right to withdraw their children from lessons that cover statutory Relationships and Health Education objectives. Nor do they have the right to withdraw their child from lessons that cover national curriculum science objectives. This includes all the information on puberty and how the human body changes.

In line with best practice, we also deliver supplementary Sex Education content. These lessons include learning about human reproduction and sexual relationships. This content is covered in years...

Parents and carers do have the right to withdraw their children from lessons covering this non-statutory content. However, we would urge any parents and carers considering withdrawing their child from these lessons to consider what is being taught, how it is being taught and how important this education is for all children. Primary Sex Education ensures children have the knowledge to keep them safe and prepares them for statutory Sex Education in KS3. We invite you to contact... if you would like to know more about our curriculum and the resources we use - we will be very happy to talk through any concerns you may have.

Our Relationships, Health and Sex Education is fully inclusive to meet the needs of all our pupils. We fully believe all children should learn about these important life skills in an open, honest and safe environment. We also believe that they should be taught in an age-appropriate and engaging way.

We encourage parents and carers to view our Relationships and Sex Education fully and objectively at work. Please see the link... We believe it is important to have a strong partnership with parents and carers and all those concerned about being taught about the relevant curriculum will be working in support for our pupils and ensure nothing to hinder the objectives taught with their children at home.

Any children who do withdraw from lessons covering supplementary content will be covered with alternative learning to ensure learning gaps.

Yours faithfully,
