Assessment and Learning in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classrooms Mark deBoer, Dmitri Leontjev, 2020-11-17 This volume builds a conceptual basis for assessment promoting learning in Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL classrooms and proposes practical assessment approaches and activities that CLIL teachers can apply in the classroom CLIL as an educational context is unique as language and content learning happen simultaneously The efficacy of such instruction has been studied extensively but assessment in CLIL classrooms has drawn much less attention The present volume aims to fill this gap Arranged based on different ways that content and language are integrated in CLIL the chapters in this book together build a solid theoretical basis for assessment promoting learning in CLIL classrooms The authors discuss how assessment eliciting this integration yields insights into learners abilities but more importantly how these insights are used to promote learning The contributors to the volume together build the understanding of classroom based assessment as cyclic of teaching learning and assessment as inter related and of content and language in CLIL classrooms as a dialectical unity This volume will spark interest in and discussion of classroom based assessment in CLIL among CLIL educators and researchers enable reflection of classroom assessment practices and foster collaboration between CLIL teachers and researchers The assessment approaches and activities discussed in the volume in turn will help educators understand the scope of applications of assessment and inspire them to adapt these to their own classrooms New Interpretations in Naval History Marcus O. Jones, 2016 The Cambridge Review, 1899 The Emergence of Pragmatic Markers from Chinese Compounds in Chinese, Japanese and Korean, 2025-10-02 The Emergence of Pragmatic Markers from Chinese Compounds in Chinese Japanese and Korean offers a new perspective on the evolution of pragmatic markers in language contact and grammaticalization drawing on data driven and diachronic studies of Chinese compounds All the contributors to this volume address the issue of whether compounds of Chinese origin have grammaticalized into discourse markers or pragmatic markers from their earlier lexical forms either similarly across these languages or in distinct language specific ways The findings presented in this volume suggest that the written contact based grammaticalization in these East Asian languages is fundamentally different from the spoken contact based grammaticalization reported in many previous studies The Caxton Head Catalogue James Tregaskis, James Tregaskis (Firm), 1928 Religious Books and Serials in Print 1978-1979 R.R. Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, 1978-11 Unlocking the History of English Luisella Caon, Moragh S. Gordon, Thijs Porck, 2024-04-15 This volume brings together contributions selected from papers delivered at the 21st International Conference on English Historical Linguistics ICEHL Leiden 2021 The chapters deal with aspects of language use throughout the history of English including efforts to prescribe and regulate language in texts that share specific forms functions and audiences They feature both quantitative and qualitative analyses of changing language use often in relation to trends of language advice in such metalinguistic works as grammars spelling books and usage guides

The authors showcase work on pragmatics and prescriptivism understatement between Middle and Late Modern English capitalization of common nouns from Early to Late Modern English and the use of stigmatized grammatical variants in eighteenth century plays specific text types case studies of political legal and medical English and the language of late modern letters diachronic stylistic changes letter copying practices the role of letter writing manuals and changing spelling practices This volume will be of interest to those working on pragmatics prescriptivism and sociolinguistics of English historical linguistics language change computational historical linguistics and related sub disciplines

Consumerism and Prestige Anthony Enns, Bernhard Metz, 2022-07-05 This anthology explores the relationships and interdependencies between literary production and distinctions of taste by examining how the material aspects of literary texts such as the cover binding typography and paper stock reflect or even determine their cultural status In many cases for example the distinctions between highbrow and lowbrow taste have little to do with the content of the texts themselves as books often function as markers of socioeconomic status like clothing or home decor One might even go so far as to say that the concept of literary taste is more closely related to fashion sense than critical judgment The anthology seeks to address this claim by examining how the tensions between consumerism and prestige reflect fundamental historical changes with regard to the development of technology literacy and social power
